

Names of Heroic Dead Published

On pages 4 and 5 of this week's Courier, may be found the pictures and names of men from this district who paid the Supreme Sacrifice in World War II.

The names have been taken from the Courier files, and form the most accurate list available in the city. Unfortunately, however, photographs were not available of all. If any names have been omitted, relatives or friends are asked to advise the Courier as it is desired to have as complete a list as possible for the records.

Extra copies of this week's paper have been published as many relatives no doubt will want an additional paper. Due to newsprint shortage, however, the supply is limited, and those who desire extra copies are advised to apply early.

Eight People Hurt As Car Crashes Into City Telephone Pole

Mrs. Edna O'Dell Sustains Severe Head Injuries as Car Crashes Into Telephone Pole—35 Stitches Necessary to Close Cuts—Two Others Also in Hospital Suffering from Fractured Skulls—Five Other People Recovering from Shock and Bruises—Car Completely Wrecked

Five People Riding In Front Seat

THREE people lie critically injured in hospital and five others are recovering from cuts and bruises as the result of an automobile accident about 1.30 a.m. Sunday when a car, allegedly driven by Ernest Meise, of Kelowna, careened off the roadway and crashed into a telephone pole opposite the Wartime Housing project on South Pendozi. It was the worst accident that has occurred in the city for some time, and all available cars along with the ambulance were pressed into service to rush the patients to hospital. Those injured were:

Mrs. Edna O'Dell, Miss Edith Moorhouse, Miss Verna Shoaf, Miss Eunice Shoaf, Robert Simpson, Ernest Simpson, Linus Volk, Ernest Meise.

Condition of Mrs. O'Dell is still very grave. She is suffering from serious head injuries, and required 35 stitches in her face and head to close the wounds. Miss Edith Moorhouse and Linus Volk, both of whom are suffering from fractured skulls, are the other two who are confined to hospital. Miss Verna Shoaf, Ernest Meise and Ernest Simpson were released over the week-end, while Miss Eunice Shoaf and Robert Simpson were not detained after being examined at the hospital. Mrs. O'Dell is a sister of Verna and Eunice Shoaf.

According to reports, the automobile was proceeding on South Pendozi toward Okanagan Mission when it swerved off on the right hand side of the road and crashed into a telephone pole. It was reported that five people were riding in the front seat of the car, and when the automobile struck the pole, the occupants were thrown about. The windshield was shattered. Meise, Miss Moorhouse, Mrs. O'Dell, Volk and Ernest Simpson were apparently in the front seat of the vehicle.

Condition Grave Dr. Gordon Wilson, when notified of the accident, rushed to the scene, and rendered what first aid he could before sending them to hospital. The physician said the condition of Mrs. O'Dell was still very grave, while, in addition to suffering from fractured skulls, Miss Moorhouse and Linus Volk are also suffering from concussion.

While there were no actual witnesses to the accident, police are conducting a thorough investigation of the automobile, which is reported to have been completely wrecked. All the tires were fully inflated when the wrecking car took the vehicle away from the scene of the accident, but there is a possibility the tire may have broken.

There was little traffic on the road at the time, although people in houses heard the crash for several blocks away. No charges have as yet been laid by local Provincial Police against Meise.

FINAL COUNT OF ELECTION

The final figures of the recent provincial election in South Okanagan have been issued by the returning officer.

They show that W. A. C. Bennett, the Coalition candidate, received 3,705, while Mrs. Gladys Webster, C.C.F. candidate, received 2,061. There were 137 spoiled ballots. Mr. Bennett received a majority of 1,644. The large number of spoiled ballots was due, principally, to absentee voters incorrectly making out their forms.

9th Armored Regiment To Detrain As An Overseas Unit In Kelowna

On Return From Europe Will Come Straight Here From Halifax

Word was received here on Wednesday that the 9th Armored Regiment, E.C.D.'s, when it returns to Canada, will proceed as a unit direct to Kelowna, where it will be officially dismissed. This word comes from Ottawa, following six weeks of travel to this end by the Kelowna Board of

Memorial Fund at $25,000

Drive's Fine Start Gives 18 Per Cent First Three Days

Organizations and Business Firms and Some Large Private Gifts Help Boost Three Days of Canvassing to $25,000—Organizations Have Been Responsible for $6,300 of Total—Individuals and Business Firms Give $1,000 Each, While Others Give $500—Many Private Persons Giving Between One and Five Hundred Dollars—Small Gifts Also Pouring In as Canvassers Make Their Rounds

Committee Definitely Encouraged

KELOWNA and District War Memorial Fund drive, after three days had reached the $25,000 figure on Wednesday night with the canvassing barely underway. The general trend of the donations had been generous and the committee was definitely encouraged that the drive for $130,000 would be a complete success, provided that the generous rate of giving during the past three days was maintained.

The three days' total was swelled by donations of $1,000 each from three individuals and from two business firms. Five other businesses had already contributed cheques for $500. Various organizations have already sent cheques or indicated that they would give donations which in the aggregate amount to $6,300. Dozens of private citizens are making gifts ranging between one and five hundred dollars.

The committee was definitely optimistic about the fine start the campaign was receiving. R. Seath, chairman of the campaign committee, on Wednesday commented: "It is a large undertaking but we are confident that the people of Kelowna would appreciate the purpose of the Living Memorial and show their gratitude and appreciation accordingly. The results of the canvass to date would seem to indicate that our confidence was justified. It should be remembered, however, that the final $30,000 is the hard bit to get and if we are to reach our objective, it will be necessary for each one of us to give as generously as our gratitude and our conscience dictates."

The "men with the blue and white buttons" started on their rounds in some instances on Monday, while in other cases the canvass has not yet started.

There has been little word from the rural areas, although the Kellogg district, with a quota of $2,800, reached its objective on Monday.

A Real Sacrifice One of the canvassers reports an interesting human interest story. In making his calls he was tempted to pass the humble home of an aged lady whom, he knew, was an old age pensioner. However, feeling that if he failed to call she might feel slighted and hurt, he did knock at the door.

She greeted him enthusiastically and praised the idea behind the campaign to erect a Living Memorial. She expressed regret that she was not in a position to make a substantial donation, but to his surprise, she drew out a two dollar bill and asked him to take it, saying that she would gladly spare it in order that she might help a little. More, she said she would contribute.

Long Search For Airport Site Ends With Recommendation Now Placed In Ratepayers' Lap

Kelowna, After Ten-Year Search, Now Has Opportunity of Obtaining Suitable Site for Airport—Ratepayers to Vote on Bylaw on December 13th—Only Feasible Land in District Now Held on Option Which Expires at End of This Year—District's Future in Air Depends in Large Measure on Voters' Ballots

THE ratepayers of the City of Kelowna will, on December 13th, decide whether or not the decade-long hunt for an airstrip to serve this city is to be finally and successfully concluded. On that day they will vote on a bylaw which will give the city authority to raise $20,000 for the purchase of the Dickson Ranch immediately south of the Postill C.N.R. station on the Vernon Road. On Monday night the City Council gave the required three readings to the bylaw and it is now in the hands of the ratepayers. It is expected that the resale of the unneeded portion will return about $8,000.

The search for a suitable air strip 83 acres as a start towards acquiring the field. However, there are 110 acres owned by A. Eutin, which the Board of Trade tried repeatedly to purchase over a period of years and was unable at any time to obtain a price from Mr. Eutin.

This, plus changes in aircraft, unfavorable reports from the Department of Transport on the desirability of the field, and the fact that to make Rutland a suitable air port

Ratepayers To Vote On Four Bylaws At Civic Elections

Four Bylaws Provide for Borrowing of $80,000, of Which $17,000 Is Estimated to be Recoverable Through Resale of Property and Salvage—Decade-long Airport Search Finally Ends in Hands of Ratepayers—Kelowna Sawmill Lakeshore Purchase Already Approved in Plebiscite Now to be Ratified—Two Bylaws Provide for Property Switch and Purchase of North Side of Mill Avenue Between Water and Ellis to Complete Civic Site

RATEPAYERS of the City of Kelowna will, when electing a mayor and three members of the City Council on December 13th, also cast their ballots for or against four bylaws. The bylaws are:

A bylaw to complete the purchase of the Kelowna Sawmill Lakeshore property for $25,000, the purchase of which was approved in a plebiscite last May. This bylaw does not require the raising of any money as the amount will be paid out of current surplus.

A bylaw to approve a three-way exchange of properties on Mill Avenue.

A bylaw to approve the purchase by the city of certain properties on the north side of Mill Avenue for $60,000, for incorporation into the civic centre site.

A bylaw to approve the purchase by the city of the Dickson Ranch at Ellison, to be used as an airport site. The amount involved is $20,000, but it is expected that about $8,000 of this will be recovered through resale of the unneeded portions of the property. A detailed story of this bylaw appears in another column.

In all, the four bylaws involve a borrowing of $80,000. Of this amount, it is expected that some $8,000 will be recovered from the airport site and another $8,000 is expected to be recovered from the salvage of buildings on the Mill Avenue properties. These amounts would represent a recovery of about $17,000.

The other two bylaws are related and interlocked. When Harland Bartholomew and Associates, world recognized town planning firm, of St. Louis, Mo., examined the city centre property, they strongly recommended that steps be taken to acquire now the north side of Mill Avenue for inclusion in the Civic Centre site.

After much consideration and examination, the Civic Centre committee a few weeks ago recommended that the City Council prepare a bylaw to acquire this property for ratification by the ratepayers. After considerable negotiations, arrangements have been made with some owners to switch the property for other property and in other cases options have been secured on the properties, where no switch was possible.

The properties involved, which will be purchased under the bylaw, if it is approved, are:

Lot 2, block 18, registered plan 462, owned by Ephraim Arthur Day. Lot 3 of the same block owned jointly by Ernest and Gertrude Agnes Harrison.

Lots 4 and 5 owned by Hubert

One New Candidate May Contest Civic Election On December 13th

Two weeks from today local residents will trek to the polls to elect a new mayor, three aldermen and two school board trustees for another term of office. But with nomination day only 11 days away, there is a possibility that only one new candidate will enter the civic election picture, although two of the aldermen, whose terms expire, are at present undecided as to whether they will seek another term of office.

Those whose terms expire at the year-end are Mayor James D. Pettigrew, Alderman O. L. Jones, Alderman Sam Miller, Alderman G. D. Herbert, and School Board Trustees Jim Brydon and Bert McKim. In addition to the election of city officials, local ratepayers will also cast a vote on three money by-laws, which are facing the City Council for disposition.

Although the civic election pot has just started to simmer, little interest has been shown over the forthcoming election. Lt.-Col. J. H. Horn, who was a former member of the City Council in 1939-40, has been mentioned in local circles as a probable candidate for Alderman.

Kelowna civic voters will have to travel to the Women's Institute Hall, on Glenn Avenue, if they desire to cast their ballots in the civic election on December 13. The City Council, on Monday night, after an intensive canvass, came to the conclusion that the W.I. Hall was the only suitable building available.

For half an hour the Council discussed the problem, trying to find some building closer to the heart of the city. This year the I.O.O.F. Hall is no longer available. Nor is the Or-

NORTH OKANAGAN BY-ELECTION TO BE HELD DEC. 19

A by-election, caused by the death of Hon. K. C. MacDonald, Minister of Agriculture, will be held in North Okanagan constituency on December 19. It was announced by the Provincial Government Wednesday afternoon. Nomination day will be December 12.

At noon Wednesday it was understood, as to who the Coalition candidate will be, while it is understood the C.C.F. also plan running a candidate in the by-election.

DR. PANTON AGAIN HEADS KELOWNA CLUB

Dr. L. A. C. Panton was re-elected president of the Kelowna Club at the annual meeting held on November 14. Members of the committee for the coming year are E. Campbell, E. M. Carruthers, J. H. Horn, Don Fillmore and S. Miller.

There was considerable discussion concerning the selling of part of the club property, and a sub-committee was appointed to investigate the possibility of selling some of the lots and moving the club house on to the balance of the land.

If a favorable report is issued, a special meeting will be called to discuss the matter.

SENTENCED ON FORGERY CHARGE

Paul Moejelski, of Penticton, was sentenced to two years' imprisonment, less one day, when he was convicted on a charge of forging a Dominion of Canada cheque to the amount of $87.

Appearing before Magistrate T. F. McWilliams in city police court, Wednesday morning, Moejelski was said to have forged a cheque belonging to Mrs. Marjorie P. Jewell on June 22, 1945.

Moejelski was previously convicted on two similar charges in Penticton and sentenced to a similar term of imprisonment. Both sentences will run concurrently.

SPEAKS AT ROTARY

F.O. Bus Welters, who was a prisoner of war in Germany for over four years, was guest speaker at the weekly luncheon of the Rotary Club this week. Inspector B. M. Robertson, of Kamloops, was a guest at the luncheon.

At Monday night's Council meeting, many aldermen remarked that the flag in front of the Courier office was the only one noticed during the early part of the day.

At the "Welcome Home" dance Thursday night, brief talks will be made by Mayor James Pettigrew, Don Whitman, president of the Board of Trade, G. D. Herbert, chairman of the "Welcome Home" committee, and R. G. Rutherford, chairman of the local Rehabilitation committee.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Canadian Legion have arranged to provide supper at both dances, and close to 1,000 people are expected at both dances. A total of 700 personal invitations have been sent out to ex-servicemen in the city and surrounding district, while a

PLANS ARE NOW READY FOR VET DANCE TONIGHT

Disappointment Is Expressed Over Lack of Flags Displayed on City Streets

NEED CO-OPERATION

Over 1,000 Are Expected to Take Part in Dances at Scout Hall and Zenith Hall

Final plans have been completed for the official "Welcome Home" dance, which will be held in the Scout Hall and the Zenith Hall Thursday night (tonight) commencing at 8:30 p.m. The dance will be one of the highlights of "Welcome Home" week, which has been set aside by official proclamation, and scores of veterans from Kelowna as well as from districts north to Winfield and south to Peachland are expected to attend.

The dance will bring to a climax the entertainment planned for returned veterans this week, and special services were held in the city churches last Sunday, ministers delivering their sermons to the part local men played in winning the war.

In spite of the fact local merchants were asked to display flags and bunting during the week as a tribute to the part local men played in bringing victory to our country, very few flags were noticeable on the streets the early part of the week. When questioned, some of the storekeepers said they had forgotten to put them out in order to co-operate in a small measure toward the success of the campaign.

Want to Co-operate Some pointed out that it was not that they did not want to co-operate with civic officials in arranging a "Welcome Home" week for veterans, but they simply did not have the decorations to put out. Possibly the most impressive display on Buntary Avenue was arranged by Will Harper, manager of the Empress Theatre. The canopy in front of the building was gaily decorated with various types of flags. Many flags were also noticed outside the windows of R. G. Rutherford's office, and the Bank of Commerce.

Harry Mitchell's clothing store also had an impressive window display. The window was artistically designed with the artist's conception of the proposed civic arena along with tributes to Kelowna's fighting men who died in action.

66 KELOWNA VETS APPLY FOR HOUSES

Wives of Servicemen May Make Application for War-time Homes

A total of 66 applications have been received for the 100 homes being constructed in the city by Wartime Housing Ltd., it was announced this week by the local Housing Administrator. While the majority who have applied are overseas veterans, applications are being made daily from servicemen who have served in Canada only.

The Housing Administrator pointed out that many wives of servicemen are under the impression that their husbands have to apply personally before they are allocated a home. This is incorrect, he pointed out, as the homes are designed for dependents of servicemen who are still in the forces, as well as for bereaved wives of veterans.

A total of 43 applications have been received from veterans who have had service overseas. These are broken down into the following figures: veterans with no children, 21; veterans with one child, 11; veterans with two or more children, 11.

A total of 23 soldiers who have seen service in Canada only have made application for the homes. Four have no children; five have one child, and 14 have two or more children.

Applications may be made at the Housing Administrator's office located at 221 Bernard Avenue.

What Does It Mean?

What does it mean when it is stated that any gifts to the Kelowna and District War Memorial Fund are "income tax free?"

In effect, it means that of every dollar given by the people of Kelowna to this Fund, the Dominion Government is actually giving about forty per cent of the amount!

It means that, if Kelowna and District reaches its objective of $130,000 for a Living Memorial—as it will—the people of the area will have contributed just about $78,000, while the Dominion Treasury will have contributed about $52,000!

A rather staggering statement, but one borne out by the facts.

Every cent a person gives to the Fund can be deducted from his income before paying income tax. But if he does not give to the Fund, he pays income tax on the amount and, averaging over the whole district, the amount of the tax would be pretty close to forty per cent of the amount of the gift. In other words, by giving to the Fund, the income-tax-payer deprives the Dominion Treasury of about forty per cent of the amount he gives.

Some may quarrel with that forty per cent figure, but it is one arrived at by people who are in a position to know pretty well. They point out that the minimum would run about twenty-five per cent in some cases while the maximum would reach well over fifty per cent in many more. They strike forty as a fair all-round estimate.

Thus, when a man writes out a cheque for $100 to the War Memorial Fund, he should not kid himself into thinking that he is giving a hundred dollars. He isn't. If he did not make the gift, Mr. Isley's henchmen would lift about $40 from him. So, actually, his gift amounts to only $60, with the Dominion Treasury putting up the balance.

And the same applies to the man who gives $500 or a $1,000. They are actually only giving about $300 and $600 out of their own pockets, while the Dominion Treasury is putting up $200 and $400.

Actually the man who plans on GIVING $100 should write a cheque for $165; he then would be giving about $99 and the Dominion Treasury $66. Similarly the man GIVING $500 should make his cheque out for about $850, while the man who desires to contribute $1,000 should sign a cheque for $1,675.

Never has this area had such an opportunity to do so much for so little. We have paid our income taxes here willingly year after year, but we have all, secretly perhaps, longed for the opportunity of getting a little of our own back. Here is a Heaven-sent opportunity to do just that.

And best of all, there is nothing wrong about it. This is no jip-game to slip something over on Ottawa. Ottawa officials, themselves, have ruled that it is quite legal and quite in order for any gifts to the Memorial Fund to be considered as tax exempt charity gifts.

This means we can write a generous cheque to a worthy cause and obtain satisfaction from that. But, at the same time, we can indulge in a little chuckle from the knowledge that just about forty per cent of that cheque is coming out of Mr. Isley's pocket.

Let's, then, review our War Memorial Fund donations, remembering as we do so that it is a memorial to those who gave their lives that we might make the money we are giving; that it is for a Living Memorial which will serve the community well; and—not least important—that of any amount we give, no matter how large it may be or how small, about sixty per cent of it is paid by ourselves and forty per cent by the Dominion Treasury.

Surely, we can increase those donations!

For those who gave so freely, let us give.

Vernon's Viewpoint

The Memorial Fund drive now underway here has touched the fancy of the whole Okanagan and other centres are watching with considerable interest just how the people of the Kelowna area respond. There are some who are saying it can't be done, while there are others pulling for a complete success. This latter viewpoint in other cities stems from an appreciation of just what the Memorial Arena will mean to the Central Okanagan.

Such a viewpoint is expressed this week by the Vernon News which editorially discussed the Kelowna project and comments: "If the people of Kelowna could see the throngs of happy kids skating and playing in the arena here (Vernon) on almost any evening, they would not have much difficulty in selling the idea of an arena of their own to any doubting citizens."

The News' editorial, illustrating as it does the manner in which other cities of the Valley are watching the local drive, makes interesting reading. We quote in full:

"Kelowna, often called the Okanagan's most community minded city, is this week embarked on a project at once unique and of giant proportions.

"The Central Okanagan district, of which Kelowna is the headquarters, is raising a huge sum of money entirely by voluntary subscription to provide a 'living memorial' to its sons who fought for freedom and democracy. The $130,000—which is the objective—is to be spent for a sports arena and necessary equipment. And this is but part of a vast plan for a memorial civic centre, to be constructed over a period of years.

"No one is to be forced to contribute. Subscriptions are asked for entirely as a grateful contribution. Here is indeed a unique project and one that might well set a pattern for communities wishing to honor those men who enlisted freely, sacrificed the best years of their life, and often died. Memorials of stone or bronze or granite were the fashion after 1918. Today, Canada with its vastly increased material resources can well devote some of it to 'living memorials'.

"The raising of so large a sum of money can be no easy task. Kelowna and district have set no light objective before them. Substantial amounts of money must be forthcoming from many individuals and businesses if the $130,000 is to be secured.

"Vernon, as the first interior centre to have an artificial ice arena and covered sports ground, is taking a keen interest in the campaign waged by its neighbor. It may be said, in fairness, that this city pioneered; not on so elaborate a scale, to be sure, but then 1945 is vastly different from 1930-1937.

"Kelowna can expect much from an arena. If any problem of juvenile delinquency exists there, the reasonable expectation is that it will vanish when the doors are thrown wide open to boys and girls. If the people of Kelowna could see the throngs of happy kids skating and playing in the arena here on almost any evening, they would not have much difficulty in selling the idea of an arena of their own to any doubting citizens. In Vernon the arena is serving not only the city area but a wide district surrounding; Kelowna will doubtless find this to be the case also.

"The people of Vernon are today watching their good neighbors in Kelowna with the keenest interest and wishing them success in their magnificent undertaking."

For those who gave so freely, let us give.

Kelowna In Bygone Days

(From the Files of The Kelowna Courier)

FORTY YEARS AGO

Thursday, November 16, 1905

"Mr. and Mrs. J. Campbell and son, of Winnipeg, arrived in Kelowna by Wednesday's boat and will take up their residence at Sunny Side Ranch, on the west side of the lake, having purchased this property from W. L. D'Aeth."

"A. B. Knox unearthed a skull at what is known as Knox's Bluff a few days ago, and he communicated the fact to Sam Long while the latter was out surveying at that place last Saturday. Mr. Long got interested in the find and went to the spot intent on thoroughly investigating the matter. He was rewarded by finding a piece of elk horn about eight inches long, with a small hole in the centre and having several carved marks near one end. It is a well-known fact that this place was the 'watch tower' of the ancient inhabitants of the Okanagan Valley, and many a battle no doubt has been fought at this spot. Corroborative of this fact, a great number of arrowheads have been found in this vicinity."

"The Kelowna Land & Orchard Co., Ltd., have placed an order for 12,000 trees with the Layritz Nursery, of Victoria. A large number of these trees are to be planted for lot holders and the Company will take care of them for a few years. All these trees are being planted on Bench properties, and it goes without saying that in a few years time they will be producing some of the finest fruit in Canada, as the Bench land is admirably suited for fruit growing. The splendid irrigation system of this company, completed this fall, now consists of over seven miles of flume and ditch and opens up what is assuredly A1 orchard land. We must extend our congratulations to the K.L.O. Co. for the manner in which they have improved their property and have advanced the value of the Bench land as a whole. The travelling public also have them to thank for building the road to the Mission."

"A meeting of the Kelowna St. Andrew's Society was held in the Lake View Hotel last Saturday, with Fred Carruthers in the chair. The following officers were elected: President, C. S. Smith; Vice-President, D. W. Sutherland; Secretary-Treasurer, H. S. Rose; General Committee, S. T. Elliott, F. W. Fraser, F. Carruthers, W. R. Pooley. All present were unanimous in deciding to celebrate St. Andrew's Day by having a banquet."

The quota of boxes from the different points was approximately as follows: Penticton, Kaledon and Okanagan Falls, 322; Summerland, 338; Naramata, 100; Peachland, 106; Kelowna, 285; Vernon, 249; Armstrong, 8; Enderby, 5; Tappen, 23; Salmon Arm, 98. There are times in the lives of all people when freedom is the twin of duty, sacrifice the companion of happiness, and when courage—parent of fortitude, endurance and determination—is the first virtue.—Dorothy Thompson.

War is the most ghastly experience that can come to any country. And always it is the people—not the handful of men in positions of power—who must pay the full price. The price in dollars and cents. The price in dismembered families. The price in heart agonies. The price in bodily suffering. The price in numbed minds. The price in precious human lives. The price in putting together the nation's pieces, afterwards. Always it is the masses who pay.—Robert M. LaFollette.

CITY IS GIVEN FINE PEN SET

Presentation Made in Recognition of City's Victory Loan Efforts

C. R. Bull, chairman of the National War Finance Committee, on Monday night, on behalf of a group of the committee, presented the City of Kelowna with a pen set for former Mayor, and Mayor J. D. Pettigrew, in Victory Loan activities, as well as the Council members, as a whole.

O. St. P. Aitkens, on behalf of render terms for Britain. The stand with the Victory Loan shield and in it is a plaque bearing the signatures on both the German and Japanese surrender documents.

In making the presentation, Mr. Bull stated that it was being done on behalf of a group of the committee, who desired to show their appreciation of the City of Kelowna's effort in the Ninth and preceding Victory Loans.

He also took the opportunity of expressing his committee's appreciation of the splendid co-operation shown by G. A. McKay, former Mayor, and Mayor J. D. Pettigrew, in Victory Loan activities, as well as the Council members, as a whole.

O. St. P. Aitkens, on behalf of the committee, presented the City with the Victory Loan shield and complimented it on its achievement.

Mayor Pettigrew, in accepting the gift for the City, expressed his appreciation and complimented Mr. Bull upon the success achieved by his committee.

BRIAIN'S CONCRETE HOUSES

To speed up housing construction and to save labor, a new British structure is being demonstrated at an exhibition of concrete houses near London at Eastcote, Middlesex. Wooden frames and huge moulds for the walls, with the necessary openings for windows, doors, water and gas-pipes, etc., are erected on the site by means of cranes.

This - - - Is Your Opportunity

When the Kelowna and District War Memorial Fund canvasser—the man with the blue and white button—calls, give as generously as your means permit and as liberally as your conscience dictates.

Your contribution—be it large or small—if given with the spirit of sacrifice, is your token of appreciation and gratitude.

LOCAL GROUPS DIGGING DOWN FOR FUNDS

Rod and Gun Club and Gyro
Each Give $1,000 to Memorial

Local organizations are now consolidating their plans to make gifts to the Kelowna and District War Memorial Fund and a number of them have already made substantial gifts, while others are planning on doing so.

The Rod and Gun Club has notified the committee that that organization will contribute $1,000.

The Kelowna Gyro Club on Tuesday night agreed that it would make a contribution of $1,000 in cash. H.M.C.S. Kelowna Committee has decided, now its function is finished, to donate the remaining cash in its treasury to the fund. This amount is about $300. All but about $20 of the amount was sent to the committee by the officers and ratings of the ship at the time of its decommissioning. The amount was the balance left in the ship's canteen fund.

The Kelowna and District War Activities Committee probably, at a meeting to be held next Tuesday, will agree that its surplus funds, amounting to about $1,000, should be turned over to the Memorial fund.

The Dr. Knox Chapter, I.O.D.E., has also made a donation.

Kelowna Remembers

We will remember them!
Not only on this day but every day—
Those who have saved us from the bitterness
The dissolution that before us lay.
Those valiant ones who sought no recompense!
Those gallant ones who fearlessly have died!
Giving themselves, a glorious sacrifice,
To win life's freedoms long to men denied.

We will remember them!
The vivid present and the poignant past—
The passing moons were but a silver span
Linking the then and now, the first and last—
Faster and son, today and yesterday,
Are they not symbols of that finer part
Which answers to the light, rejects the dark?
We hold them consecrated in our heart!

We will remember them!
In silent moments heavily imbued
With grieving thoughts for those who come no more—
Supremest gift of royal magnitudes!
Through alien soil may hold beloved forms
Their dust is Canada—though crosses white
Stand side by side above each mounded grave
Their spirits live! And in God's holy sight
We will remember them!

VALLEY FIRM TO APPLY FOR AIR FRANCHISE

Company Wants to Operate
Air Line From Vancouver to Lethbridge Through Penticton

Okanagan Airways Limited, with Brant E. Bergstrom, of Summerland, former B.C.A.F. officer, as president, has made application to the Air Transport Board, Ottawa, for a franchise to operate an air line from Vancouver to Lethbridge through Penticton.

The application of the Brisbane Aviation Company to operate over a route embracing Vancouver, Kamloops, Penticton, Trail and return, has also been received. Some time ago the B.C. Central Air Lines, of Vancouver, also made application to operate the Vancouver-Lethbridge service through Penticton.

The schedule calls for a return flight each day over the route including Vancouver, Penticton, Castlegar and Lethbridge. Two DC3 aircraft will be used with one held in reserve. A small plane will be made available for charter flight, and a repair shop will be established in Penticton to carry out normal repairs. To start with, Lethbridge will be used as the base of operations. About 40 full time employees will be used, all of whom will be ex-servicemen.

KAMLOOPS MAY RESTORE CITY POLICE FORCE

A fact-finding study of policing costs has been ordered by the Kamloops City Council, and it is more than possible a plebiscite on the question or readoption of the municipal police force system will be taken at the December civic election.

A comparison between costs of the provincial police and the municipal police systems is being prepared. The figures are to be based on a ten-man municipal force (one constable and a chief of police). The whole question of provincial versus municipal police force was informally discussed by the City Council last week. Alderman Charles E. Scanlan, who was mayor when the changeover from municipal to provincial police system was made seven years ago, said he is "inclined to agree. We haven't received the service we anticipated, and I think the Council as a whole should reconsider the feasibility of a changeover. Now is a very opportune time."

KAMLOOPS WANTS JAPS TO MOVE

Kamloops Board of Trade will continue to bombard the B.C. Security Commission seeking (a) removal of all "special permit Japanese" from the area as soon as possible, (b) an assurance that all Japanese who voted to return to Japan are repatriated at the earliest moment, and (c) that in the final settlement of the Japanese population, Kamloops will only have its fair share, and, preferably, the prewar Japanese population—two families.

One member of the board argued that if Kelowna could get rid of the Japs, the City of Kamloops could do likewise. He thought a similar guarantee should be given to the city by the B.C. Security Com-

ARENA WOULD BE REAL ASSET TO COMMUNITY

Skating Arena Would Keep
Juvenile Delinquency Down
Says A. K. Loyd

LIVING MEMORIAL

Citizens Urged to Give When Canvassers Call to Avoid
Call-Backs

The value of a skating rink as a Living Memorial to those who paid the Supreme Sacrifice would be a real asset to the community, as it would play a major role in overcoming juvenile delinquency, A. K. Loyd, chairman of the War Memorial Committee, told members of the Lions Club at a luncheon meeting last week.

Mr. Loyd pointed out the arena would not only be used for skating in the winter time, but said it would be a general rallying point for everyone in the community in the summer time as well. He urged the Lions Club to give their wholehearted support during the two-week campaign to raise $130,000, pointing out the fact that people in the surrounding district had spent millions of dollars in purchasing war bonds during the last five years.

"The war bonds would not be worth the paper they are written on if the boys had not gone out and fought for their country," he declared. He asserted the arena would be well proportioned to fit in with the proposed Civic Centre, and that the front of the building would be an imposing Memorial to those who had died.

"At the outset of his address, Mr. Loyd pointed out that the committee had spent a great deal of time working out plans for the Memorial, and had discussed various ways of raising the necessary money.

He said the time for "dead" memorials has passed, and that, instead of dedicating a marble slab to war heroes, it is felt, not only in Kelowna, but throughout Canada at large, that a suitable building should be erected that could be used for coming generations.

The speaker said the value of a skating arena in Kelowna could not be underestimated, and said that such a building would provide facilities for numerous sports here. It could be used in the summer time as well, he said, and it would play a major role in keeping juvenile delinquency down to a minimum.

Referring to the manner in which funds should be raised for the memorial, Mr. Loyd said the question of raising money by lotteries had been discussed, but members of the committee thought that this did not fulfil the thoughts of a Living Memorial. He said the idea of raising money by taxation had also been thought of, but one cannot force a man to pay for a memorial, and it should be left to the individual.

Give Accordingly

"Naturally the question arises how much should I give," the speaker continued. "In answering this question, an individual should ask himself 'how much have I to be thankful for?' and then give accordingly. (In a previous radio address Mr. Loyd said the committee thought a person should give three to five times as much as they did to a Red Cross campaign).

The speaker stated that there are about 300 canvassers collecting money throughout the city, and that the service clubs are playing a leading role in making the campaign successful.

"I am confident we can get our objective within two weeks," the speaker concluded.

The Lions Club will have six teams collecting money for the Living Memorial during the next two weeks, and in view of the fact the men are contributing their own time and money, citizens are urged to give their donation when the canvasser calls so that he will not have to make a return visit.

RED CROSS TO HOLD PARLEY IN OKANAGAN

Will Hold Meetings in Vernon and Penticton During December

First of the regional conferences of the B.C. Division, Canadian Red Cross Society, will be held in two Okanagan cities, it was announced this week. Representatives will meet in Vernon on December 4, and Penticton on December 6.

P. S. McKergow, president of the B.C. Division, and Lt.-Col. C. A. Scott, provincial commissioner, will come from Vancouver to attend the meetings, which are being arranged by Mrs. C. S. Bennett, regional representative. An outline of work of the Red Cross, both in its present phase and in its peacetime activities, will be discussed by representatives of some 14 branches, who are expected to attend these meetings.

Mainland region of the society, of which Mrs. F. McVickar is representative, is planning its meetings in North Vancouver later in December. Delegates from as far north as Prince Rupert will attend this gathering. Later, Vancouver Island branches and those in the East Kootenay region will hold their meetings.

The first constitution after the reconstruction of Netherlands as a sovereign state was promulgated in 1814.

THESE heroes are dead. They died for liberty—they died for us. They are at rest. They sleep in the land they made free, under a flag they rendered stainless, under the solemn pines, the sad hemlocks, the tearful willows, the embracing vines. They sleep beneath the shadows of the clouds, careless alike of sunshine or storm, each in the windowless palace of rest. Earth may run red with other wars—they are at peace. In the midst of battles, in the roar of conflict, they found the serenity of death.

THESE PAGES ARE PUBLISHED THAT DURING MEMORIAL WEEK WE MAY RECALL THE NAMES OF THE HEROIC DEAD.

On these two pages are pictured the men from this district who paid the Supreme Sacrifice in the World War. There are photographs of many from The Courier files, but unfortunately, photographs were not available of all. The names of those whose pictures are not available are listed above.
This is the most accurate list available of the men from this area who paid the Supreme Sacrifice. It may be that the names of some are not included. If so, it is not any intentional oversight, but due to the fact that the name was not on the list. If any are missed, will friends or relatives please advise The Courier, as it is desired to have as complete a list as possible for the records.

WANTS TO OPEN MOVABLE DINER

Airman Wants to Move Diner from Place to Place

E. W. Toombs, a returned airman, is seeking the City Council's permission to establish a movable diner to cater to demand in various city areas at different times of the year. The diner would be erected on wheels and at intervals moved from place to place. Thus it would be set up in or near the Park in the summer, in the parking house area in the fall and some other location in the winter.

In the discussion at the City Council meeting on Monday night, it was pointed out a licence could be given him at once, but there were several other factors which entered the picture. The zoning bylaw does not permit a restaurant in the parking house area; he must meet certain conditions of the health bylaws, and also the building bylaw.

Aldermen Jones and Newby were named as a committee to investigate further.

CITY BUYS MORE WOOD

The City Council, on Monday night, agreed to purchase one thousand cords of four foot green or seasoned wood, delivered into the city wood yard by February 15th, from the Kelowna Fuel Company, at $11.50 a cord.

The City also decided to purchase 40 cords from M. Casorso at $30.00 for three and a half cords.

CITY OKAYS BUS SERVICE ARRANGEMENTS

Fares and Routes Given Approval—Plan to Start in January

Kelowna will have a bus service early in January, if the present plans of Fred S. Thompson, former naval officer, are consummated. On Monday night the City Council approved the final details of the proposed service.

The fare to be charged will be ten cents per person and five cents for children under twelve and those holding student's cards. A transfer will be given to permit a change from one route to another, but this, of course, does not permit a return trip.

Three routes will be covered at one and a half hour intervals at the present time, the central point for all the routes being Pendozi, north of Bernard.

The route designated as "number one", will commence at Pendozi and Bernard, east on Doyle to Richter, north to Stockwell, east on Stockwell to Ethel, north on Ethel to Coronation, west on Coronation to St. Paul, south on St. Paul to Cavston, west on Cavston to Ellis, north to Roanoke, west on Roanoke to Camp, south on Camp to Water, south on Water to Bernard, east on Bernard to Pendozi.

Route two leaves Bernard and Pendozi and runs east on Bernard to the Vernon Road, south to Borden, west to Ethel, south to Sutherland, west to Richter, north to Bernard.

Route three covers the southern section of the city, leaving Bernard and Pendozi and running west on Bernard to Abbott, south on Abbott to Strathcona, east to Pendozi, south to Wardlaw, west to North Street, south to Oprey, east to Pendozi, north to Elliott, east to Richter, north to Bernard.

"WELCOME HOME" BEING PLANNED AT PEACHLAND

Sum of $23.86 Is Realized from Sale of Popples on November 10

The regular monthly meeting of the W.A. of the Canadian Legion was held in the Legion Hall, Wednesday of last week. Mrs. F. Topham, Sr., and Mrs. L. B. Fulk were appointed to represent the W.A. at a meeting called by the Council to discuss the form of a public welcome to the local boys and girls who have returned and are returning from war service. Mrs. F. E. Wright and Mrs. V. Milner-Jones were appointed to act on the Christmas Tree committee. Mrs. F. Topham reported that the sum of $23.86 was the amount realized from the sale of popples. Mrs. Wright gave a report on the work carried on by the Comfort Club during the year. Many of the boys have returned home and have expressed interest for parcels sent them in the years they have been away. Mrs. Wright and Mrs. Topham were asked to continue on this committee until it is disbanded.

The annual sale of work, home cooking and ten, sponsored by the W.A. of the United Church, Saturday afternoon of last week, was opened with a short address by the Rev. Dr. A. D. MacKinnon. Mrs. E. M. Hunt, Mrs. A. Smalls and Mrs. M. Twynne were in charge of the fancy work table, Mrs. Z. C. Witt and Mrs. C. C. Duquemin taking care of the home cooking. Miss Justine Ibbotson was in charge of a table of toys and novelties. Mrs. H. M. Ibbotson was convener of the kitchen, helped by Mrs. M. Davidson and Miss M. Leach. Beautiful white, mauve and bronze mums were centrepieces on the tea tables, and waiting on the tables were Miss Mildred Johnson, Miss Gail Witt, Miss Clara Wilson, Miss Kay Cousins and Miss Justine Ibbotson.

A social evening, sponsored by the Legion, was held in the Legion Hall, Friday of last week. A few rounds of cards were played, with the first prizes going to Mrs. A. Topham and A. E. Ruffie, and consolation prizes to Mrs. A. West and V. Cousins. Bingo was played with all the young people taking part, and having lots of fun. Lunch was served by the ladies of the W.A. to the Legion.

Another big fish, weighing 17 lbs., was caught and entered in the Okanagan Lake Trout Derby by F. V. Vernon, on November 22, off Trepianier.

The National Film Board series of films were shown in the Legion Hall Wednesday afternoon of last week, the feature picture being "V.I. Company", with a Peachland boy, P/O. Don Miller, D.F.C., who is in the Shaughnessy Hospital taking treatments, shown in the picture. W. F. Goodland, of Vancouver, the operator in charge of the films, was kind enough to run this picture three or four times, first for the school children and then for the different groups of adults who came in to see it. The film shows the courage, determination and work the men put into getting well again, long hours of exercise, games, study, tennis, swimming, etc.

The monthly meeting of the W.C. T.U. was held at the home of Mrs. P. Dorland, Friday afternoon of last week.

A group of people are trying to organize a Citizens' Forum, and meetings are held each Tuesday evening at the Municipal Hall at 8 p.m. It is hoped more people will attend these meetings to make the discussion after the broadcast more interesting.

T. McLaughlin returned home Tuesday of last week, after receiving his discharge from the Army.

Tpr. E. Bradbury left for the Coast Saturday of last week.

H. Stump returned home Monday of last week, after receiving his discharge.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Birkelund spent a few days last week visiting at Enderby.

W. E. Clements returned from the Coast Thursday of last week.

Mrs. J. H. Wilson left Thursday for a visit to the Coast.

D. A. K. Fulk returned home from the Coast Thursday of last week, after receiving his discharge from the Army.

Mrs. K. Fernyough, of Kelowna, spent a few hours visiting friends Sunday last.

Mrs. M. N. Barwick and daughter left for Sicamous Saturday of last week to meet her husband, Sgt. M. N. Barwick, R.C.A.F., who is returning from Overseas.

Sgt. H. Witt, R.C.A.F., returned to Edmonton Thursday of last week.

OYAMA

On Thursday night, Nov. 22, the second in a series of monthly recitals was held at the home of Mrs. Beatrice Smith. Those taking part were: Beth Walker, Maureen McClure, Mary Ellison, Valerie Stephens, Barbara Walker, and Joyce Towgood. The children later gathered around the piano and sang songs to the accompaniment of Mrs. W. Hayward. Mrs. T. Towgood assisted Mrs. Smith with the refreshments, and the little girls acted as servers. Only parents and close friends were present.

On Friday, Nov. 23, the Oyama Community Club sponsored a card party and dance. Military whist was played from 8.30 p.m. till 10 p.m. and those at the winning table were: Mr. and Mrs. C. Follow, Rev. A. R. Lett and Mrs. Hare. After supper was served, dancing was enjoyed till 12.30 a.m. to the music of the Oyama orchestra. Mrs. E. P. Walker substituted at the piano for Mrs. Smith, who was ill. Mrs. F. White also assisted. A good crowd was in attendance and visitors from Winfield and Okanagan Centre were seen among the crowd. R. Allingham, "Scotty" Allen, W. Lee, were three returned men who were welcomed home by V.

Ellison, president. An Irish linen tablecloth was raffled.

The evening services at St. Mary's Church have been changed over to the afternoon for the winter months. The service on Sunday next, Dec. 2, will be at 3 p.m.

Gunner R. J. Allingham has returned home from overseas after spending four years and taking part in the invasion of Europe.

Sgt. Reg. Wright has returned home from England. He has been in radio work in the Air Force.

Mrs. W. Allingham left this week for Portage La Prairie, where she has gone for the marriage this coming week of her son, Neville Allingham, and Miss Dorothy Batters.

A Dramatic Club has been formed in Oyama with Mrs. Geo. Potchecary as director. Other members are Mr. and Mrs. H. Aldred, Mrs. L. Norman, Mrs. J. Young and Allan Clarridge.

China's length from north to south is 1800 miles and its breadth from east to west is about 1,500 miles.

ELECTRIFY your Farm with a FARM IMPROVEMENT LOAN

Electricity can take the drudgery out of many a farm chore—save you time and money—help make life pleasanter and easier for everyone in the family.

Plan now to electrify your farm with a Farm Improvement Loan. At any branch of The Royal Bank of Canada, loans are available to farmers for the purchase, installation or improvement of farm electric systems. These loans can now be made on security of the equipment itself and repayment arranged by convenient instalments. If electrical equipment is still hard to get in your district, you can make a start by doing your preliminary wiring. Wire, switch boxes, transformers, etc. are available in many districts. By starting now you will be ready to put electricity to work on your farm as equipment comes on the market. Talk your plans over with the Manager of our nearest branch.

OTTAWA WANTS SURVEY MADE OF NEW HOUSES

City Receives the Information Forms But Not Enough to Go Round

Apparently the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, Ottawa, is unaware of the building boom in Kelowna. Last week the city received about two dozen cards covering statistics of new dwelling units, which are to be filled out and forwarded to Ottawa for statistical purposes. The information wanted covers every type of dwelling that is being built or has been built in the city during the year.

At the City Council meeting last week, Aldermen referred the matter to the building inspector, but if the latter compiles the information, he will have to get about 100 more cards to complete the survey, as each new house requires a separate sheet.

Local Legion Keeps Vigilant Eye On Progress Of Veterans' Houses; Want No Slackening In Building

Full Report on Building of 100 Homes by Wartime Housing Made to General Meeting—Want the Homes Finished to Alleviate Acute Shortage—Dependents of Veterans Also Can Apply for Homes—Applications Are Still Being Received From Ex-Servicemen

WHILE there have been no public meetings or demonstrations in the city concerning the acute housing situation as has been noted in other districts throughout the province, the ex-servicemen who are members of the local branch of the Canadian Legion are nevertheless taking an active interest in the construction of homes in Kelowna for returning war veterans. At a general meeting held in the Legion Hall last week, a full report on the building of 100 houses by Wartime Housing Ltd., was made at the meeting by Russell Leckie, chairman of the special housing committee. The committee is keeping a watchful eye on the building progress of the homes, and are determined that they must be finished as soon as possible in order to alleviate the acute housing shortage here.

Upon investigation, the Rehabilitation Committee made the following findings to the meeting:

1. The City Council decided 100 lots of 50 foot frontage for Wartime Housing Limited. All these lots are not of 50 foot frontage, but a balance is made by the adjustment of having three 33 foot lots being equivalent to two of the 50 foot types.

2. Wartime Housing Limited are to erect houses of two, three and four bedrooms each, and in accordance with the building by-laws of the City of Kelowna, which will assure that they are properly built. W.H.L. will rent these houses to veterans of World War II for sums ranging from $22 to $30 per month.

$1,000 A Minute
It took less than one minute for the local branch of the Canadian Legion to donate $1,000 of its funds to a charitable cause. Members unanimously passed a resolution, made by Bruce Deans that the local club give $1,000 to the War Memorial Fund, and a cheque for this amount has now been received by the secretary of the campaign.

3. The agreement between the city and Wartime Housing Ltd. is for a 15 year period, at the end of which time the city has the privilege to purchase the property for $1,000. A question was asked at the last meeting if the city would give a tenant of long standing the privilege to purchase through them for the same amount that it would cost the city. His Worship Mayor Pettigrew said that he fully understood and realized the fairness of the question, but that it is practically impossible to answer it as in 15 years from now a new council may have entirely different ideas on the subject and possibly a controversy would arise out of agreements made by a former council.

May Tax Property
4. If Wartime Housing Ltd. change their policy, and wish to sell the houses, or do something with them not in accordance with the agreement within a period of five years, then the city will collect $400 per lot, and, of course, assess it for taxation immediately.

5. Should the agreement terminate within a period of ten years, then W.H.L. pay the City $200 per lot.
6. These houses do not come under the jurisdiction of W.H.L. and Trade Boards.
7. The plan is designed to alleviate a condition of housing shortage for veterans who do not wish to use their gratuities, etc., in the purchase of houses outside the city limits, or wish to use them in any other manner that they see fit.

8. On Nov. 5, there were 40 applications in W.H.L.'s office, and approximately 57 in the Rehabilitation office.
9. It is necessary that the applicant have been a permanent resident of Kelowna prior to enlistment, or that the applicant has employment with an established concern here.

Dependents Can Apply
During the course of the meeting, it was emphasized that dependents of veterans can also apply for Wartime Houses. This includes wives who are bereaved, or whose husbands are still overseas. L. Spencer, secretary of South-East Kelowna Irrigation District, has already received 40 applications and is open daily to receive interviews or applications.

The secretary of the Legion is in receipt of a letter from Acting Chief Superintendent of Post Office Services, stating the subject of free delivery service by letter carrier in Kelowna is being investigated with a view to ascertaining whether

Maimed Veteran Seeks Position
With the armed forces' discharge rate now rolling in high gear, a large increase has been noted in veterans returning to Kelowna to re-establish themselves in civilian life. All the men, however, are not in perfect physical condition, many leaving a limb on the battlefields of Europe.

Lt.-Col. G. C. Oswald, veterans' officer under the Department of Labor, is having trouble re-establishing veterans in civvy street again, who are maimed for life. Last week, for instance, one local veteran who lost his leg while on active service, applied for a job. He has not had specialized training, but is willing to take a special course if it will lead to steady employment.

Col. Oswald, through The Courier, is appealing to local businessmen to help this veteran out, and if they have an opening for this soldier, they are asked to contact him at the local Selective Service office.

A New Motor Oil That Resists Oxidation

Like oxidized cloth—
Oxidized Oil is no good

You've seen the faded tatters worn by a scarecrow. Oxidation has had its destructive way with the cloth... making a drab "nothing" of colors that were once worn with pride. Oxidation has a destructive way with your motor oil, too... unless you've protected yourself by using new Golden Shell with oxidation inhibitor.

JUST IN TIME to serve the new cars of peacetime production, as well as those highway veterans which must survive a few more thousand miles, comes this good news: Wartime research has found a way to make motor oil resist oxidation.

Oxidation is the chemical change which destroys nearly everything under certain conditions of air, heat and moisture. It causes iron to rust, rubber to become brittle, butter to go rancid. In your motor oil it's the cause of sludge. And sludgy oil is no good. It's not only a poor lubricant, but it gums up vital engine parts so even good oil can't get in where it's needed. Your protection against the damaging effects of sludge is this new oxidation inhibitor developed by wartime research. Added during manufacture of Golden Shell motor oil, it keeps your lubricant free-flowing from one oil drain to the next. Ask for new Golden Shell now, wherever you see a Shell pump. # ALLIED FORCES EXEMPTION ACT, 1939

(Department of Mines)

NOTICE

THE Allied Forces Exemption Act, 1939, provides that the assessment work on all mineral claims held under the provisions of the Mineral Act by any member of the Allied Forces at the time of his joining such Forces for service in the present War shall be deemed to have been done. This protection extends for the duration of the War and for a period of six months thereafter. Attention is drawn to the fact that the protection shall not apply in respect of assessment work required to be done subsequent to the transfer by a member of the Allied Forces, or by his personal representatives, of his interest in the mineral claim. In other words, the new owner immediately comes under the provisions of the Mineral Act and must perform and record assessment work as required by that Act.

Example: Anniversary date of mineral claim May 10th, 1946.

Bill of sale drawn and dated April 1st, 1946. New owner must perform and record work as required by the Mineral Act on or before May 10th, 1946.

These provisions also apply in respect of leases held under the Placer-mining Act. The War, insofar as the Allied Forces Exemption Act, 1939, is concerned, will not be over until Peace is formally proclaimed by the Federal Government at Ottawa.

Vast Network Of Communications Guarded B.C. Against Jap Invasion

Details of the Pacific Communications program, released by Western Air Command Headquarters of the Royal Canadian Air Force, reveal the hitherto secret story of one of Canada's greatest operational achievements, which was forged in war under the urgent threat of Japanese aggression but remains in peace as an outstanding constructive development for the future of the West.

By this achievement the most remote parts of British Columbia became instantly accessible, by voice and teletype, over an intricate network of land lines and radio links, integrated with the great organization of air bases and military and naval units which formed a prime bulwark of national defence during the war with Japan.

When the disaster at Pearl Harbor laid the Pacific Coast open to Japanese attack it became immediately and urgently necessary to provide from scratch the vast network of communications required to organize an efficient defence or to launch a successful offence. Civilian facilities were entirely inadequate, and no civilian company had either the men or materials to complete a tremendous undertaking within the desperately small time limit upon which the safety of this continent depended.

Insurmountable Difficulties
Some idea of the problems involved can be gained from the fact that in the completed program are 16,252 miles of wire strung along 64,092 poles for a distance of 1,933 miles. But dry statistics cannot possibly picture the almost insuperable difficulties of heavy construction and delicate installation through hundreds of miles of untrodden forests, up the precipitous cliffs of rugged mountains and along the surf swept shores of rocky islets in the open Pacific.

It was too big a job for civilian companies to tackle alone, so the responsibility was laid on the Department of National Defence for Air, under the direction of the then Air Officer Commanding Western Air Command, Air Vice Marshal L. F. Stevenson, C.B. In carrying out this assignment the Air Force enlisted the aid of the Army and a score of civilian companies as well as the Department of Munitions and Supply.

Where land lines would not reach, frequency modulation radio telephone communications were set up, and temporary connections were soon established with every one of the key points giving instant access to units of all three branches of the Armed Forces, as well as those units of the United States Army and Navy which were disposed for defence of the Pacific Coast. There was little accurate engineering data available to go on and the many special factors involved made it necessary to improvise, experiment, and construct simultaneously.

It was originally intended to link such desolate outposts as Marble Island by submarine cables, but later decided that they could not last for long on the jagged, rocky bottom which is a feature of that coast. So frequency modulation radio was adopted in some cases, and experiment proved it possible to "bend" the radio beam down island channels to economize on transmitters. This was necessary because there were only twenty-three precious F. M. transmitters available, and part of the program had to be shaped around this salient fact. Not one was wasted or destroyed in installation. The range of frequency modulation radio is roughly limited to the line of vision, and so mountain peaks were chosen for transmitter sites. Even at Mt. Hayes (near Prince Rupert) where the delicate sets, each weighing 1,200 lbs., had to be raised on a caterpillar tractor that literally hung from precipitous cliffs by its own cable winch lines, there was no loss or damage.

Dangerous Task

Work went on through the summer, and through one of the coldest winters in Northern British Columbia history. It was always arduous and often dangerous. One alarmingly steep climb was made by a team of men on the rocky beach at Marble Island, and was swept to his death a moment later by a mighty roller from the open Pacific. There were rocks and other obstacles of civilization in those lonely outposts.

A new word, "bushed", came into being, descriptive of those whose nerves and minds gave way from months of loneliness and isolation. But the work went on, and in August, 1944, the program was completed and became a "system", two thousand miles of interlocking defence points immediately accessible across some of the wildest country in Canada. Long before it was completed its benefits were felt. Skilled and valuable personnel were no longer lost through delays in communication that were formerly as much as days. And the immediate transmission of information, the disposition of the disposition of defence forces, removed one of the greatest dangers to possible invasion.

Happily this great insurance policy for the safety of Canada never became a claim, and happily its benefits are carried forward into peace. On July 25, 1944, the present A.O.C. Western Air Command, Air Vice Marshal F. V. Hodges, C.B., inaugurated direct broadcasting service of the C.B.C. to Prince Rupert, a service made available by the Joint Armed Forces over the facilities of the Pacific Communications System.

Only those companies whose separate contributions played such an important part in the completion of the whole program could adequately supply full details of the multitude of difficulties and dangers which had to be overcome. In so great an undertaking final success was necessarily dependent upon the efforts of each participant.

Although the Royal Canadian Air Force was responsible for general supervision, and provided much of the construction and maintenance, the major part of the work was done by the Army and a score of civilian companies cannot be over-emphasized.

To all their untiring energy and skill, as well as to the thousands of civilian workers, Canada owes the quick and successful completion of the Pacific Communications System.

LEAVE GIVEN WAR VETERANS WHO HAVE JOBS

Over 75 Per Cent of B.C. Soldiers Not Eligible For Discharge Going on Leave

More than 75 per cent of British Columbia soldiers, not yet eligible for final discharge on the point system, are going home anyway on six-month non-paid leaves because they have jobs waiting for them or because their former employers have asked the Army to release them.

The points plan is "first in, first out" with extra priorities for overseas service.

This was reported by Maj.-Gen. F. F. Worthington, C.B., M.C., M.M., G.O.C.-in-C, Pacific Command.

Here are the main kinds of such leaves and how they are handled:

1. LUMBERING AND LOGGING LEAVE—If a soldier wants to apply for this, the Army sends him to National Employment Service with authority to look for a job. If he finds out if there is a job for him in the area where he wants to work. If so, they give him an acceptance form, and the Army releases him either the same day or the next.

Paper work in connection with his temporary release is done later; the man is not delayed.

2. INDUSTRIAL LEAVE (including fishing and industry of all types)—The applicant has to convince the Army he had held such a job as he seeks during the three months prior to enlistment. Dominion legislation compels his employer to hold the job open for him. Vast majority of men not eligible for discharge are going home for six months under this basis.

3. INDUSTRIAL SELECTION AND RELEASE COMMITTEE LEAVES—Usually referred to as I.S.R.C. Request comes to Army from the soldier's former employer, or from any employer who writes saying he wants to hire a specific soldier. Usually takes two weeks to a month to become operative.

4. FARM LEAVE—(a) compassionate, where an ex-farmer soldier is sorely needed at home to help with the chores; (b) I.S.R.C. type, where a farmer asks the Army for the return of a certain soldier; (c) the soldier has his own farm and wants to go back to it. Farming is considered essential, and most legitimate applications under this heading are granted.

5. OTHER MISCELLANEOUS LEAVES—For jobs such as canning, mining, carpentering. Dealt with by special regulations.

General Worthington said it is assumed these six-month leaves will be renewable if justified by circumstances, although technically any man on leave may be recalled to military duty at any time.

VERNON CAGERS RALLY TO BEAT KELOWNA 37-31

Northern City Also Defeats Local Intermediates 23-18 in Close-Checking Game

LEAGUE OPENS

Visitors Stage Last-Minute Rally After Tying Score 18-All at Three-Quarter Time

Staging a last minute rally after tying the score 18-18 at three-quarter time, Vernon Nick's Aces outscored Kelowna Shamrocks 37-31 in the opening game of the Interior Basketball League played at the Scout Hall on Saturday night. The Northern City's Intermediate team also chalked up a 23-18 victory over the local Tuxis cagers, in a game which featured close checking and intense passing throughout. A dance was held following the games.

Vernon went out in front by a margin of 6-2 in the feature contest, but with the local MacDonald brothers and Tostenson paving the way, the locals closed the margin at half time, when they scored another 12 points. Fighting all the way, Kelowna continued to close the gap, and at three-quarter time, the score was deadlocked at 18-all. During the last five minutes of the game both teams displayed expert skill and speed as they endeavored to stay on top. Otto Munk, who played an outstanding game for Vernon, came through with three quick baskets to salt the game away for the Northerners.

H. Tostenson was high point-getter for the locals, netting a total of nine points, while G. MacDonald garnered six. Ferguson and P. Weddell gathered an even six each.

O. Munk led the scorers for the visitors with 11 points, while Ingles collected a total of nine. The rest of the points were fairly well distributed.

THE TEAMS
Kelowna: H. Tostenson (9); G. MacDonald (6); M. MacDonald (2); J. Stewart, B. Saucier (2); D. Leslie, P. Weddell (6); Ferguson (6); C. Milligan.

Vernon: O. Munk (11); A. Munk, R. Ikeda (6); B. Koshman (6); F. Smith (1); D. McMaster (4); Ingles (9); W. Johnson (2).

The intermediate game featured accurate shooting and speed. Although the local Tuxis have one of the most powerful teams in the Okanagan, they failed to click during the evening. Douglas, of Vernon, and Horner, of Kelowna, were outstanding for their respective teams.

Although the locals did some close checking, they failed to block the intricate passing of the Vernon squad.

THE TEAMS
Kelowna: R. Gee (7); H. Maguire (2); H. Cookson, H. Hardie, T. Jones, L. Horner (7); M. Kenoshita, D. Day (2).

Vernon: Snow (5); Seaton, MacDonald, Garrett, Flemming, MacLasky (2); Douglas (10); Ikeda (2); Thorsteinson, Armstrong (4).

SOUTH KELOWNA

The first whist drive of the season was held in the South Kelowna school last Thursday evening. Mrs. Paddy Barker won ladies' first prize and Miss Lella Reynolds the consolation. Gentlemen's first went to Ted Mather and Mr. Lube took the trophy.

Following the cards a brief meeting was held to discuss future activities and the following ambitious program.

The formation of a Parent-Teachers' Association; a series of whist drives to be held throughout the winter and through which medium it is hoped to secure funds to purchase much needed recreational equipment for the children. A Christmas party for the children will be held in the school on the evening of December 21. Tentative plans were discussed with the object of resuming classes in vocal and instrumental music and music appreciation, under the direction of Mr. Black, the teacher.

These classes have been temporarily discontinued due to hoodlums on the part of one or two of the teen-age boys. It was decided that steps will be taken to firmly suppress any further outbreaks of this nature.

The next whist drive will be held on the evening of December 7, after which a meeting will be held to consummate plans for the Christmas party.

General Meeting of Tennis Club Backs Committee In Its Dealings With Kelowna School Board Offer

Accepts City Offer of Change of Property, but Considers School Board's Price Far Too Low—Decide Next Move Up to School Board, and if Necessary Are Willing to Have Matter Brought Up for Arbitration—Tennis Club Looks for Increased Membership with Ex-Servicemen Returning Home

ALL members of the Kelowna Lawn Tennis Club turned out to the general meeting Monday night to discuss aspects of the proposed decision of the School Board to acquire the Club's present property for school building. The meeting decided unanimously that the School Board's offer of $4,000 for the property was too low, as estimates turned in from a valuator placed approximate figures at nearly treble that amount, with the present high cost of materials and labor required to move or replace the courts on the proposed new site.

All correspondence between the Tennis Club, the School Board and the City Council was read to the meeting, and a careful and long discussion ensued regarding the propositions.

Regarding the threat of possible expropriation by the School Board under the School Act, it was felt that no arbitration board could do less than give them a just offer for all costs entailed. It had been previously requested that the School Board or the City supervise the replacing of the courts and club, but as this had been turned down, and no estimates offered by the School Board as to the possible cost, the meeting agreed fully with all steps previously taken by their committee and that they can do no more than let the whole matter be brought up for arbitration if that step becomes necessary.

A resolution was passed unanimously by the meeting stating "they the only one we, the committee appointed, would submit to the Club. "1.—$1,500.00 cash would be required to pay off the existing debt-holders. "2.—Sufficient freehold land for six courts as a substitute for our present property with equal taxation. (This clause has been waived for the City Council's offer of lease.) "3.—Five finished clay base and brick dust courts, similar in quality to those we already possess. "4.—Pavilion with plumbing and facilities such as we now possess on the courts. "5.—Adequate wire netting and fences with private hedge back-grounds. "6.—Practice board. "On behalf of the Committee appointed. (Signed) H. G. M. Gardner, Chairman."

City Land Offer

"The City offered to lease to the Tennis Club on a twenty-year lease Lots 2, 3 and 4, Block 3, Registered Plan 402, on Harvey Avenue, on the following basis:—That the annual rent be $105, which is equivalent to the taxes on that property at the present time. The Tennis Club would be required to pay only $60 of this until such time as their adult membership had reached fifty (50) and another $25.00 for every increase of twenty-five (25) members until the maximum of $105.00 is reached. "At the end of 15 years the lease would be reviewed and the question of whether the Tennis Club wish to continue the lease at the end of 20 years might be decided. In addition to this a suggestion was made that the City give the Tennis Club first option of purchasing this property if they decided to sell and, of course, they could not sell until the end of the lease in any case except to the Tennis Club."

On this last sentence, the general meeting felt that the club may possibly have to move again in 20 years, considering they would be giving up freehold land, for a lease, and therefore added the rider to their motion of an option of another 20 year lease at the same terms.

It was felt that if they do have to move to this new proposed site they would be moving from a low tax residential area to a number two business district, and that perhaps in 20 years' time taxes would be raised in this area to a great extent.

Another lively discussion ensued regarding where the tennis enthusiasts will be able to play next year should the School Board decide on quick action. The club is looking for an increased membership next year with numbers of servicemen returning to civilian life and sport activities, and are desirous of having a good club functioning again after six years of war.

The Royal Commission investigating the effects of Zionism in Palestine found that not a single Arab was displaced from the land as a result of Jewish immigration.

The Amsterdam bureau of Jewish census has just made public the fact that of the 140,000 Jews who lived in the Netherlands before the war, 107,000 have died.

BOY SCOUT COLUMN

OUR 1945 MOUNTAIN CAMP (concluded)

Thursday was another perfect day and the morning went all too quickly. The bulk of the fishermen went over to MacDonald Lake again and we only used the stove in the cabin for lunch so that our own would be cool and ready for packing. One stove was rather crowded as we had to use six frying pans alone to warm up the generous supply of venison and beans which Mrs. Cameron always sends along with us on these trips.

After lunch we had more photographs taken and then all hands had to get busy to break camp and pack the two trucks for the return trip. During the morning we had gathered and split up a big supply of wood for our hosts as every hiker knows how pleasant it is to find the firewood ready for him at the end of his journey, and it is also the unwritten law of the traveller in lonely places to leave dry wood ready for the next passer-by. The camp looked quite forlorn after we had packed all our tents and luggage. The whiskey joy was about the only bird who actually visited us in camp while we were there, and we were not bothered by black flies or mosquitoes. Everything combined, therefore, to give us a wonderful outing and we left for home around 2.30.

The journey down the mountain road was much quicker than coming up and we managed to catch the 5.30 ferry. We unloaded the trucks at the Scout Hall and most of us were back at our homes again in time for supper. Now our lakes will be frozen and everywhere a deep carpet of snow will cover the mountain side, but I am sure there is not one of us who does not hope that some time he will have a chance once more to wander over that pretty section of the country which for three days gave us such a happy time together. We generally try to go to a different place each year and where it will be next year we do not at present know, but we are already looking forward to it.

Now that the war is over it will also be our aim next year to resume the regular camp of ten days or so under canvas, but perhaps that is looking into the future too far ahead. In the meantime let us play the game of "Scouting" as worthy successors to all those fine men whose laughter once echoed, too, among the rocks and hills of those far off and lonely places in the top country, where, for a few fleeting hours in the past three decades, the Kelowna 1st has made its camp. Little Penticton Lake, Little White Mountain, The Big Tree, Terrace Mountain, the Big Canyon, White Rocks, Jubilee Mountain, The Belgo Dam, Stirling Creek, Turtle Lake, Brenda Lake and MacDonald Lake, are all names to be remembered.

LOCALS DEFEAT SUMMERLAND FOR SECOND VICTORY

High School Boys' Hoop Team Wins by 16-8 Count—Local Girls Lose

Kelowna High School boys' basketball team won their second straight game of the season last Friday night when they outpointed Summerland 16-8, but the local girls' hoop squad once again failed to chalk up any league points when they lost 9-8 to the Summerland girls.

Curell, Stewart and Wade pressed home the attack for the locals in the early stages of the boys' game, and after the locals took the lead, they were never headed. Kelowna's smooth passing met the speed of the Summerland team and they pushed well ahead in the latter stages of the game.

In a hard fought game which featured fast plays and speed, the Kelowna girls were nosed out by one point when the final bell rang. The locals showed improvement over their first game with Vernon, and after tying the score at three-quarter time, they rallied in the last frame, but failed to gain an extra basket to put them over the top.

Kelowna: Marie Murdoch, V. Sperle, Pam Leckie, Una Smith, Patsy Rowcliffe, Sharon West, Dot Whitham, Janet Scantland, Betty Ryder, Gladys Eyre and Betty Ball.

Summerland: V. Jomori, H. Shirley, C. Cheveldeoff, Shirley Taylor, C. Cross, R. Armour, R. Nesbit, Mary Hermiston, C. Kalaten.

WESTBANK

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Cornish moved to Kelowna last Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Springer have moved from the "Axel" house to the home recently vacated by Mr. and Mrs. Cornish.

Mrs. A. Iverson moved to Peachland last Friday, to take up residence in the Edgewood Inn. A. Iverson, who has just received his discharge from the Armed Forces, arrived in Kelowna Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Stuart, of "Rustoord", spent a social evening at the homes of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Madock, Mr. and Mrs. O. Twinn, Mr. and Mrs. J. Griffin and Mr. and Mrs. C. Keddy, before leaving Monday, Nov. 26, to visit their daughters in Vancouver. From there Mr. and Mrs. J. Stuart plan on a trip to California, before making plans for their future home. J. Blackey, who has recently purchased "Rustoord", has taken up residence there.

The Westbank United Church held a supper and program, which included pictures, on Monday evening, Nov. 26, in the basement of the church.

Miss Phyllis Howe is a patient in Kelowna General Hospital.

George I. Webber arrived home this week-end from Vancouver, where he received his discharge from the Army.

What is Freedom Worth To You?

DEEP in the heart of each and every one of us there must be realization of what we would have paid three years ago for assurance of freedom in our time, and the time of our children. Then the possibility that we might lose that freedom was stark and real. Everything we had was at stake. Now that victory has been won, let us be honest with ourselves as to what we owe those who fought for freedom. Let us not compromise with ourselves when it comes to deciding whether or not we should give to commemorate our heroes, or how much. Only individually can we measure our own gratitude.

C.W.L. WOMEN HOLD BAZAAR

Most Successful Organization Has Ever Held

The annual bazaar, sponsored by the Catholic Women's League, last week, was the most successful ever given by this organization. The many booths, gaily decorated in victory colors, were continuously surrounded by eager purchasers of fancy work, novelties, pillowslips, aprons and Christmas gifts, as well as home cooking.

The tea room in the afternoon was well patronized, as was the snack bar in the evening. The candy and soft drink stall did a rushing business. Many remained to enjoy the games in the evening and were the winners of valuable and useful prizes.

In the grand drawing those who won prizes were: 1st prize, M. Stark; 2nd prize, R. Russo; 3rd prize, M. Marty.

The prize winners in the different booths were:

Home cooking: Mrs. F. Casorso, Mrs. E. Teoruk, M. Leier.

Novelty booth: Mrs. J. V. Ablett, M. Schuck.

Full pantry: Mrs. E. Fetsch, M. Lemaster.

Fancywork booth: Mrs. Laura C. ancone, Clirilo Dalco.

Pillowslip booth: M. Macdonald, Casorso.

CONCLUDE FIRE INVESTIGATION

Investigation by the Assistant Provincial Fire Marshal, W. C. Percy Nichols, of a fire which started on the Casorso property at Bear Creek on September 27, was completed Wednesday afternoon.

The results of the findings will be forwarded to the Chief Fire Marshal of British Columbia, when final disposition of the case will be made. Some time ago, Bernard P. Casorso made a claim from an insurance company for $7,000 to cover loss of onion seed and damage to property. The large amount of insurance carried on the produce resulted in the Assistant Fire Marshal being called in to conduct an investigation.

Mr. Nichols is also conducting an investigation into the fire on October 21 at a house owned by Jacob Johal, and formerly occupied by Phillip A. Kitch. The three room house is said to have been insured by two insurance companies, one policy for $3,000 and another for $1,300.

B. & P. CLUB HEAR NURSE

Mrs. Kozar Tells of Life in China with Chinese Red Cross

The Business and Professional Women's Club were fortunate in securing as their speaker for last Friday evening Mrs. J. Kozar, at present nursing in the Kelowna Hospital, but formerly with the Chinese Red Cross for some eight and one-half years in that war-torn country.

The first unit of the Chinese Red Cross was organized by Dr. R. K. S. Lim, after the terrible siege of Shanghai. In 1938, Dr. Norman Bethune, who was the originator of the blood transfusion method in use throughout the war, went into China and worked with the Chinese Red Cross. This unit, which Mrs. Kozar belonged numbered twenty doctors, nurses and technicians, who started on their long and fateful journey to Hankow, and landed there in the middle of an air raid. They crossed the Yellow River into occupied territory, but the Japanese came in at the same time, so they had to return to Shensi Province some 300 miles away. The foreign press was waiting for them there, but they gave out no news, but were taken away by the Japanese. They were taken to a place of rest for the overloads, who built the Great Wall.

This hospital had 150 bed patients. Every branch of the hospital work was undertaken, even communicable diseases. Transports consisted of pack animals only, which could carry at the most 300 lbs. at once. People accompanying them walked. This was the only hospital unit in this territory within 1,000 miles. There was no epidemic control. Typhus was the first job was de-lousing, and de-lousing stations had to be built. The peasants looked after the actual work of de-lousing, but the staff had to see that the blankets and clothes were left in the boiler long enough.

In the guerilla areas the medical staff were given an old temple to work in. There was no space for a hospital, so the patients were bedded out among the peasants, who looked after their sick very well. A sanitation department was set up and inoculations were given, the League of Nations providing the serums.

Later they went back to Hankow, to find that it was in the midst of siege. They did find some friends, however, in a Japanese concession and the orders were to be ready for escape in an hour. The planes in the harbor were strafing them badly, but Mrs. Kozar and a few others got through with their lives, but their belongings were gone. Fortunately one of the soldier boys had seized a small grip with their finances in it. They set a little boy on the edge of the sampan to fish and with a little rice, they made out all right. They met gang of bandits, but shot it out with them. They went back to Shangho, but the city was burned, so they took a cattle boat into Hong Kong. Mrs. Kozar's uniform had been worn a month, and they looked at her rather askance as she entered the fashionable Peninsula Hotel.

The next assignment was to go to Shanghai, and take a cargo of goods into Nanking and the northern part. They had to get past the Japanese Navigation officers, and had some $200,000 worth of goods to get into Free China. The area previously occupied by Japan. They managed to get to Anling, but had been there only three weeks when they were obliged to cross the Yangtze River to get out of the west of Japanese planes. They crossed under the very noses of the Japanese—possibly the only instance of anyone having thus escaped.

But out of all this desolation, Mrs. Kozar assured her hearers that a great new spirit was arising among the Chinese people. Most of the young people in the Chinese Red Cross were students in their early youth, and they will never go back to the old life again. The women no longer accept the parent's dictum but take their own mates and live their own lives. Help comes from many sources. A fleet of trucks was supplied by the New York Laundrymen's Association. The great will for freedom lives on in this great awakening people.

At the conclusion of Mrs. Kozar's address, the film, "Know Your En-

CITY SETTLES BUTT CLAIM

Joins Kelowna Sawmill Co. and Charles E. Clarke in Paying $1,810

The City of Kelowna, Charles E. Clarke, of Westbank, and the Kelowna Sawmill Company will each pay $608.33 in damages and costs to Miss K. Joan Butt and her father, D. R. Butt, as a result of the accident which happened to Miss Butt last fall.

Miss Butt was cycling on Water Street and passing under the old overhead bridge of the Sawmill Company when a truck, loaded with apple boxes, and owned by Mr. Clarke, attempted to pass under the bridge. The load struck the top of the bridge, dislodging a timber, which fell and struck Miss Butt, seriously injuring her.

The Court awarded damages to Miss Butt of $930 and costs to her father of $870, making a total of $1,810 when costs are added, split three-ways between the defendants.

On Monday night the City Council ordered the account to be paid.

INDIAN JAILED FOR ASSAULTING

For hitting his father over the head with a stove poker, Joe Manuel, an Indian, was sentenced to four months' imprisonment when he appeared before Magistrate T. F. McWilliams in police court Monday morning.

Manuel, an Indian from the Westbank district, previously served a three-month sentence when he was convicted on a stabbing charge. Police stated he got into an argument with his father, Pierre Manuel, and struck him over the head with a poker.

FUNERAL HELD FOR R. POTTRUFF

A resident of British Columbia for the past 20 years, Russell Pottruff, 70 years of age, died in Salmon Arm on November 20. Funeral services were held in Kelowna last Friday, and burial followed in the Kelowna cemetery.

Born in Hamilton, Ont., Mr. Pottruff is survived by his wife, three daughters, Miss Hope Pottruff, and Mrs. I. Graves, of Kelowna, and another daughter on the prairies.

DOUBLE RIDING BRINGS WARNING

Several youths appeared before Juvenile Court Judge T. F. McWilliams this week on charges of riding two on a bicycle. He let the youths off, however, with a warning that if they appeared in court again, they would be dealt with severely.

Ernestson Bergen, of Kelowna, pleaded guilty to a charge of riding a bicycle on a sidewalk. He was fined $2.50 or five days' imprisonment.

CANADIAN CLUB MEETING DEC. 6

Mrs. Mildred Valley Thornton will be the guest speaker at the regular meeting of the Kelowna Canadian Club, which will be held in the Canadian Legion Hall, on Thursday, December 6, commencing at 8 p.m. Mrs. Thornton, who will speak on "Indians as I have known them," is well known for her portrait studies of Canadian people. The talk will be illustrated by slides of her own oil portraits of Indians.

A niece of the American sculptor, Evelyn Beatrice Longman, Mrs. Thornton is well known in other lines of artistic endeavor with the Canadian Authors' Association and the Vancouver Poetry Society.

ONE MAN'S OPINION

By The "Beaver"

With scores of ex-servicemen returning to their homes throughout the country, the majority of them are looking forward to returning to former positions held by them before they joined the armed forces.

But there comes a time when the younger veterans who have served in the armed forces for five years or more are looking for new fields in which they can permanently rehabilitate themselves. Such is the case of a former R.C.A.F. officer who dropped into the Courier office this week. His name is Harvey Conn, a veteran of four years who served in the Coastal Command branch of the R.C.A.F., shadowing convoys plying between Canada and the United Kingdom.

Returning to Kelowna last September after securing his retirement from the R.C.A.F., FO. Conn looked around for a position he could fill but would give him a permanent livelihood. Unfortunately, however, he came to a sudden conclusion before the government had a chance to re-organize its industries, so he was left to make an important decision. Should he work for the "other man" at a lower rate of wages, or should he go into business for himself?

After careful consideration, Harvey Conn decided to take the latter choice, and he set up a small handicraft workshop on Aberdeen Street, in the Woodlawn district, and he is now busily engaged in making toys, lawn furniture, and wood cabinets. So far business has been fairly good, and it has grown to such a degree that he is now ready to take advance orders for odds and ends around the home. Although he has only been in business a few short months, FO. Conn hopes to employ more ex-servicemen as business increases.

This is one more example of what ex-servicemen can do for themselves, providing they have the initiative.

Tonight is the "big night" that the Kelowna and District War Rehabilitation Committee has set aside for the official "Welcome Home" party for the city's sons and daughters who played a major role in bringing victory to our country. The committee working on the dance has gone to no end of trouble, and judging from plans that have been made, it should be one of the most successful dances ever held in this community for servicemen. The most unfortunate part of it, however, is the fact that there is no room to invite civilians. It is estimated that there will be close to 1,000 people at both dances in the Scout Hall and Zenith Hall, so one can readily understand how it is impossible to invite everyone. It indicates, however, how badly Kelowna is in need of a large building for such functions. Ah! What couldn't it do if it were a reality now! There would be room for all folks!

Speaking of an arena where which would serve as a Living Memorial to those who paid the Supreme Sacrifice on world battlefronts, it can not be over-emphasized how the community, as a whole, would benefit by such a building. Not only will the children whose fathers died in this war have something to remember their by, but it will also take care of a growing problem all over Canada—juvenile delinquency. Learning to play the "game of life" is one of the basic principles leading to success, and it has been proven time and time again that the good wholesome sport is the best teacher. When an arena is constructed here, the city will be in an enviable position to take a leading part in the organization of a B.C. Interior Hockey League, embracing towns and cities as far north as Revelstoke and south to the U.S. border. It would certainly revive Canada's leading sport in the Okanagan Valley, and would provide more entertainment during the long winter months. In the summer time the arena could be used for basketball, dances, and even a temporary auditorium. Yes, even a temporary auditorium. But all this will not come about unless the citizens of Kelowna contribute to the Living Memorial fund. $130,000 is a big objective, but it can be done. Now, the problem is to give till it hurts—as a means of showing their appreciation for what the men and women of the fighting forces did during almost six years of warfare. Kelowna has never failed in previous war loan drives, and if everyone from the office clerk to the bank manager gets behind this campaign, it will and can go over the top.

The other day, yours truly acquired a black-haired Cocker spaniel—about a month old, and it is amusing to compare his sensitive feelings with that of a young baby. For the first two or three nights the wife or I paced the floor during the wee hours of the morning. (It would wake up regular as a clock every four hours for its food), but it is surprising the results attained when we changed his feeding hours. Now, thank heaven, we can sleep peacefully until 7 a.m., but immediately yours truly gets up to go to work, the "little fellow" is scampering around for his breakfast. We have had all sorts of advice as to how to bring him up, but have decided to let nature take its course. As to his name, we have had countless suggestions, one individual insisting on calling him "puddles". We thought that name might be too suggestive, however, and after careful deliberation, have christened him "Wags" after "Admiral Wags", the Cocker spaniel that was the mascot of an American aircraft carrier, but who broke his back when he fell 100 feet to the flight deck. Or, as the better half remarked, he is named after all the "Wireless Air Gunners" in the R.C.A.F.

Locals to meet SUMMERLAND IN CAGE FIXTURE

The request that the B. P. O. Elks be permitted to hold bingo games weekly was refused by the City Council on Monday night. The matter had been previously referred to the local police and a letter from the police sergeant settled the matter.

Sergeant Thompson wrote that bingo seemed to be contrary to the provisions of the criminal code and he saw no reason for changing the decision of his predecessor, Sergt. Macdonald. Bingo is out.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

November 24, 1945.

Editor, Kelowna Courier:
Anyone who has read "Black-Out In Gretey" by J. B. Priestley, will remember the following passage: "The fact of the war came down on me like a falling tower. Somebody inside me . . . shook and screamed, seeing in front of him a great and ever-widening black pit into which men, women, houses, whole cities, went slithering. It was a vision of evil triumph . . . The wretched Nazis hadn't started it . . . They could push you into that widening pit, that streaming dark gulf, which went down to Hell, but they couldn't have created it. Either we all created it together, or there were giant powers of darkness no longer chained."

The second passage that I quote is from "Return to the Future" by Sigurd Undset. She is speaking of the English workers whom her son, Anders, met during his four years in England.

"They were embarrassed and blushed when the newspapers and radio told of completely hysterical outbreaks of German hatred. They went down to Hell, but they couldn't have created it. Either we all created it together, or there were giant powers of darkness no longer chained."

To the words of these two famous writers, I now, humbly, add some thoughts of my own. The German word for insanity is "Geisteskrankheit," literally translated, sickness of the mind or spirit. The form the sickness of the spirit took in Germany was Hitler worship. The form it takes in Canada is Orientalitis, a word which seems to me to fit the case fairly well. A better one can no doubt be coined. For the present, this one must do. I use it as a name for the plague of the mind which is ravaging Canada. Who can doubt that it is indeed a sickness of the spirit? It is—this Orientalitis—as much apart from common sense as it is from humanity, most of all for the unfortunate Japanese. The sensible thing, and the kind thing, to do with these poor creatures is to remove them from Canada. A white man's land is not the place for people of color. They are as much out of place here as the codling moth is in the apple orchard—and far more dangerous than it. The tragedy of the colored person in white country is that he wants to be what he cannot be—white. All his fine clothes—his leather coats, his shiny boots, his shining cars—are attempts to make himself as white as he can. And he fails. Therein lies the tragedy for him.

Man is not without recuperative powers. These powers must be used to do what is eminently sane, practical, kind, humane, and that is, to repatriate them, these unfortunate people, the poor little Japanese. There is another name for them, bestowed upon them by the British soldiers, and not without good reason. It is "The Bloody Nips". For the white people who have been blighted by Orientalitis, these words from the Bible are not without point: "Woe unto them that call evil good, and good evil, that put darkness for light and light for darkness, that put bitter for sweet and sweet for bitter."

There is yet something to be said, something that is rarely, if ever, touched upon. It is to belittle the intelligence of the Japanese, to believe them incapable of building a better state for themselves, in which work the Canadian born Japanese could be of great use. It is the excessive arrogance and stupidity—and Geisteskrankheit—most of all Geisteskrankheit—of the silliest white men and white women which permits such thinking. "That man's the best cosmopolitan who loves his native country best." No one can think wisely and constructively for the Japanese who does not love his own people best. Clannishness is not a sin. It is a symptom of the disease Orientalitis to think that it is.

Some day—let us never give up the hope—we shall have a better world. But to attain what is good, one must first know what is good. Without sanity, without common sense, one builds on sand. The term, "race prejudice," so much used, so much derided, so little understood, means simply the will to live. It is an instinct possessed by normal people. No individual, no race, can survive without it.

Our time is not lacking in the tragic. I can think of nothing more tragic than white Rachel, whose white sons have died in every corner of the world, mourning not for them, but for the yellow sons of the yellow Japanese, to whom she thinks the white race does not give way fast enough. It is beyond the tragic. It partakes of the abnormal. It outrages nature.

M. B. HENDERSON.

THANKS

Kelowna, B.C., November 22, 1945.
Editor, Kelowna Courier:
There must be many lovers of the arts who, like myself, would like to express their appreciation of the work done by Miss Sylvia Gunn and Mrs. Ira Swartz in arranging, in the past month, two exhibits of works of Canadian artists.

On both occasions there have been sketches done by local people. If one were lucky one might have met and talked with the artist. Some of the pictures have been by our leading Canadians and others by beginners with the promise of future greatness.

No doubt the sponsors of these exhibits have their reward in finding that those who attend are given pleasure.

Yours in the interest of art,
DELIA WEST.

NO TRAVEL LET-UP
Citizens will still have trouble getting train berths at the end of this year, Alastair Fraser, vice-president in charge of traffic, C.N.R., stated. He said that travel would probably continue at peak levels even after the troop movements are over.

The heaviest part of the troop movement should be finished by the early part of next year, Mr. Fraser believed. Then the back-log of civilian travel that has been piling up will begin to have its effect. Mr. Fraser did not see where travel would be reduced to any great extent for some time to come.

WINFIELD

The B.C.F.G.A. held its annual meeting in the Winfield Community Hall, on Tuesday, Nov. 20. Officers for the coming year were elected as follows: president, Ted Nuyens; secretary, Frank Constable; directors, C. Metcalfe, Reg. Moody and Harry Van Ackeren. Ted Nuyens, secretary, and Harry Van Ackeren, director, were elected to represent Okanagan Centre and Winfield at the B.C.F.G.A. convention to be held in the near future. Next meeting of the Association will be in the Winfield Hall on December 11.

The monthly showing of the National Film Board pictures were shown in the Winfield Community Hall on Monday of last week. Mr. Goddard was the projectionist in charge. "The Salmon Run" and "Toscanini" were the two main pictures to be shown. A special showing was given to the school children in the afternoon.

Mrs. A. Phillips took over the leadership of the J.W.I. from Mrs. G. Shaw at the meeting held at the home of Mrs. Shaw on Friday, Nov. 23. Mrs. Shaw started the girls' group over two and a half years ago and has been their leader ever since. The meetings of the group are to be held every other Saturday afternoon instead of Friday evening. The next meeting being at the home of Mrs. Phillips, Saturday, Dec. 8, at 2 p.m.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Perry received word during the past week that their youngest son, Sgt. Eldred Perry, had arrived in Canada about the Queen Elizabeth. Sgt. Perry went overseas with the U.S.A. Paratroops after being to Kiska. He later transferred to the Calgary Highlanders.

Mrs. Tommy Brinkman, Jr., and daughter, Gladys, of Oliver, were visiting with friends and relatives in Winfield over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Shaw had as their guests during the week Mr. and Mrs. Stan. Thompson, of Oliver.

Miss Shirley Teal is a patient in the Kelowna General Hospital, where she underwent an operation.

Winfield's Victory Loan sales had a boost of $4,400, which brought the amount subscribed to $40,250.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Jones, of Enderby, were Sunday visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Jones.

Little Peggy Johnson is a patient of the Kelowna Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Metcalfe were recent visitors to Oliver.

In Canadian villages and rural communities more than a hundred travelling projectionists each month show films from the National Film Board on agricultural methods, nutrition, and Canada's natural resources and industries.

ARMY TRUCKS WILL BE SOLD B.C. FARMERS

Must Make Application to the Board Before December 15 When Draw Will Take Place

Fifty-three three-quarter ton war surplus trucks have been allotted to British Columbia farmers by the War Assets Corporation, so C. A. Hayden, secretary of the B.C. Federation of Agriculture, announces. These trucks already have been set aside, 20 at Esquimalt and 25 at Hastings Park, Vancouver.

Allotment will be by a drawing, which the Vancouver office of the War Assets Corporation will supervise, and every B.C. farmer who wants a 3/4-ton truck can participate in the drawing by filling in an application form which can be obtained by writing J. W. Carmichael, field man of the B.C. Federation of Agriculture, at 425 West Eighth Ave., Vancouver, office of the Fraser Valley Milk Producers' Association.

Mr. Carmichael will also supply specifications of the trucks. A flat price of $330 at Esquimalt and Vancouver has been fixed by the War Assets Corporation. Winning farmers will pay the freight.

Applications will be received up to December 15, if the Corporation will agree to the Federation's request, and it is planned that the drawing will take place in Vancouver December 17.

The B.C. Federation of Agriculture has been negotiating with the War Assets Corporation, Montreal, for several months in an effort to get trucks for direct sale to farmers in this province, and the present arrangement was effected by L. C. Roy, who is the representative of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture with the Corporation.

An attempt is being made to get a further supply of trucks for B.C. farmers, including heavier types when such are declared surplus.

Why VICKS VapoRub Is So Good For Relieving Misereries of Childrens Colds

More than two generations ago—in grandmother's day—mothers first discovered Vicks VapoRub. Today it is the most widely used home-remedy for relieving misereries of children's colds. And here is the reason . . .

The moment you rub VapoRub on the throat, chest and back at bedtime it starts to work two ways at once—and keeps on working for hours—to ease coughing spasms, help clear congestion in cold-clogged upper breathing passages, relieve muscular aches or tightness. It promotes restful sleep. Often most of the misery of the cold is gone by morning! That's why VapoRub is so good to use when colds strike. Try it!

PORTRAIT OF A POPULAR "IN-LAW"

MOTHER BARNES is her son-in-law's favorite relative. Mind you, there was a time when Mother's visits sent him scurrying for cover. But that was before her doctor told her that the caffeine in tea and coffee was making her irritable—and suggested Postum instead.

Mother loves Postum. It's so full-flavored and heartening—not like tea, not like coffee, just downright delicious in its own right. And Postum contains no caffeine—no other drug that might affect heart or nerves or digestion.

Postum is made instantly, right in the cup, just by adding hot milk or boiling water. Costs less than a cent a serving. Try Postum today!

From the B.C. Capital

In order to carry out its program of land clearing assistance to farmers, the Government has purchased nine crawler type tractors and certain auxiliary machinery to be located at strategic points in the Province. In addition to the machinery, three flat delivery trucks have been ordered. These purchases involve approximately $115,000.

Owing to the shortage of material it has not been possible to obtain all the equipment at one time. The Government's application for priorities finally has been recognized and three of the tractors have now been delivered. The balance of the order will be available shortly.

It is anticipated that preliminary operations will commence soon and enable some acreage to be cleared in the coastal areas so that it may be ready for seeding and planting next spring.

James E. Beamish, B.E. (Agric.), has been appointed Assistant Director of Land Clearing. A graduate in Agricultural Engineering from the University of Saskatchewan, he has had considerable experience in the handling of heavy equipment on the prairies, where he was for several years manager of the large P.F.R.A. reclamation and irrigation project at Maple Creek, Sask. Mr. Beamish has just returned to civilian life after three years' service with the Canadian Army.

In making this machinery accessible to farmers another of the Manifold policies of the Coalition Government is being carried out.

TO FLOAT LOAN

A $3,000,000 loan will be marketed by the Government for the B.C. Commission to provide for services already mapped out, it was announced by Premier Hart.

Mr. Hart said that bond houses throughout Canada would be asked to bid on the loan, which will be payable in Canada only. Coupons on the bond issue will be at 3 per cent, the Premier said.

These funds will provide for the extension and development of rural electrification facilities; development of power producing projects, and the acquisition of power companies.

NEW CABINET MINISTER

Doctor G. M. Weir was sworn in as Minister of Education in the Coalition Government by His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor at a ceremony at Government House on Monday morning. This appointment fills the vacancy in the Cabinet caused by the resignation of the Hon. H. G. T. Perry, who was unsuccessful at the polls during the recent provincial election.

Dr. Weir is well known throughout British Columbia, having held the portfolios of Provincial Secretary and Education from 1933 to 1941. During the past few years he was in charge of training for the Rehabilitation Branch of the Department of Pensions and National Health, and has recently been with the Faculty of Education at the University of British Columbia.

POST-WAR REHABILITATION AND RECONSTRUCTION BUREAU

Hon. E. C. Carson, Minister of Mines, Trade and Industry, was appointed chairman of the Post-war Rehabilitation and Reconstruction Bureau by order-in-council on November 16. This appointment was made following the retirement from the Government of Hon. H. G. T. Perry.

Hon. E. T. Kenney, Minister of Lands and Forests, has been appointed to fill the vacancy in the personnel of the Cabinet Committee administering the Bureau.

VALUATORS APPOINTED

Premier John Hart announced the appointment by the Government of the American Company of Milwaukee, Wis., as appraisers and evaluators for three groups of power companies recently taken over by the B.C. Power Commission.

HIGH SPOTS

of Kelowna High School Life

Sports are once more being strongly stressed at K.H.S., now that the war is over. At the beginning of the term an Athletic Council was elected in much the same manner as the Student Council. Each grade has a boy and a girl to represent them on the Athletic Council. This body has been working very hard under the direction of the head of Girls' Sports—Marie Murdoch, and the head of Boys' Sports—Bert Saucier.

One of their first acts was the forming of six athletic houses in the school. Inter-house competitions will shortly be under way in the gym. The Athletic Council hopes to have an indoor track meet to wind up the winter season, but this will require the utmost co-operation on the part of each house.

In addition to its sport activities, each house must present an auditorium period. The next auditorium period is scheduled to be handled by House 1.

Though there was a very short soccer season this year, the boys played games with the various teams in the Valley. The girls had several practices but did not have a team formed in time to play. However, they formed a cheer team to cheer the boys on to victory. The team did not win the Soccer League, but it was certainly not due to the lack of spirit.

The basketball season has just got off to a good start. Both boys and girls played their first game of the year last Friday night against Vernon. Our girls lost their game but the boys came through with a "bang" to win their game 39 to 29. Afterwards we were hosts to Vernon High at an enjoyable mixer in the lunch room. Hope you enjoyed yourselves, Vernon, because we certainly enjoyed having you!

More of these "pre-war" get-togethers will, we hope, take place throughout the season. Transportation is still difficult and any offers to transport players for out-of-town games would be gratefully received by the Athletic Council.

With a wish for a successful sport year, this is your reporter signing off for this week.—DOT WHITHAM.

CAMERON REPORT

It has been announced by Premier Hart that the Cameron Report on Education Costs is being printed and copies will be ready for distribution on November 24.

HIGH TRIBUTE PAID
British Columbians were deeply grieved Monday morning to learn of the death of the late Hon. Dr. K. C. Macdonald, Minister of Agriculture. High tribute was paid to his long career of public service by Premier Hart, who issued the following statement:

"In the passing of the Hon. Doctor K. C. Macdonald, Minister of Agriculture, British Columbia has indeed lost a great public figure. Throughout his period of administration as Minister of Agriculture, which dates back to November 15, 1933, the Hon. Doctor Macdonald has given great leadership and has contributed much to the agricultural development of this Province. Agriculture, to contributing wise counsel both at the meetings of the Cabinet and of the Provincial Legislature."

"Under his guidance much was accomplished in stabilizing market prices for our farmers. Through the initiative exercised by himself the agricultural industry of this Province has grown to such magnitude as to be now classed as second only to that of the United States."

"I have lost a close personal friend whom I held in very high regard. My colleagues and I will miss him greatly. Our deepest sympathy goes out to the members of his family and the many bereaved friends who mourn his loss."

DOMINION-PROVINCIAL CONFERENCE

Premier John Hart left for Ottawa Wednesday of last week, accompanied by the Hon. R. L. Maitland, K.C., Attorney General, and the Hon. Herbert Anscomb, Minister of Public Works; G. Neil Perry, Economic Adviser on Dominion-Provincial Relations; and Percy C. Richards, Premier's Secretary.

During the past several months the Premier and Mr. Perry have been making a study of the Dominion proposals and their effect on British Columbia. They are now prepared to submit an analysis of their findings to the Dominion authorities, with the hope that a solution will be reached whereby the Dominion and the Province can embark on a comprehensive program of social security and full employment.

B.C. POWER COMMISSION

Legislation is now being prepared for the forthcoming session of the Legislature, authorizing the expenditure of a further $10,000,000 to be added to the B.C. Power Commission. When the "Electric Power Act" was passed at the last session the sum of $10,000,000 was made available to the Commission.

The additional appropriation brings to $20,000,000 the amount placed at the disposal of the B.C. Power Commission and enables them to go ahead with their full program of development.

OFFICIALS RETIRING

Hon. George S. Pearson, Provincial Secretary, announces that before next March 31 all women of 60 years or more and all men of 65 years or more in the Civil Service will be retired from Government service. It is estimated more than 125 employees, including several department heads and senior officials, will be retired by the new order. Some of these may be re-employed for a short period.

Mr. Pearson said there was provision for reappointment of civil servants for not more than one year after termination of the war. The war is not yet officially declared terminated. Reappointments may be made of technical personnel which the commission is not able to replace immediately.

KEEN INTEREST DISPLAYED IN MUSIC RECITAL

Joint Recital Given by Marie Rodker and Lloyd Powell Delights Local Audience

Music of very high standard was heard last week at the Junior High School auditorium, in the joint recital given by Mrs. Marie Rodker, contralto, and Lloyd Powell, pianist.

A delightfully varied program gave a most responsive audience the thrill that comes from great music presented with great artistry.

In the Schubert Lieder group, the two artists gave a beautiful ensemble work, with perfect balance of their solo numbers, Mrs. Rodker's rich tonal coloring, exquisite phrasing, perfect diction and depth of feeling held her listeners spellbound.

In her solo numbers, Mrs. Rodker's rich tonal coloring, exquisite phrasing, perfect diction and depth of feeling held her listeners spellbound. Mr. Powell's masterly playing of the Bach Italian Concerto brought enthusiastic response from his audience and again in the Chopin group, where he displayed great poetic insight.

The artists generously gave many lovely encores.

After the concert a reception was held at "Guisachan", the home of Mrs. G. D. Cameron, president of the Kelowna Listening Group, by whom, in conjunction with the B.C. Music

Association, the concert was sponsored.

Teachers' Federation (local branch), the concert was sponsored.

PENTICTON CUTS BY-LAW PROGRAM

Penticton Council's by-law program for submission to the ratepayers at the municipal election in December has been slashed from about $200,000 to $100,000 for roads and parks.

This step followed the recommendation made to all municipalities in the province by B. C. Bracewell, Deputy Minister of Municipal Affairs and Inspector of Municipalities.

Paraguay's population is chiefly white. There are about 20,000 Negroes in the wilds, and Negroes are unknown.

to the effect that expenditures involving money by-laws should be curbed or deferred for the immediate future except for the most essential undertakings.

Mr. Bracewell put "teeth" into this recommendation by pointing out that, as Inspector of Municipalities, he has the duty to consider the economic circumstances involved before granting approval of money by-laws and can call for such measures to be altered, reduced, or withheld if in his opinion such debt should not be created.

JAYCEES TACKLE MORE PROBLEMS

Jack Acres was re-elected president of the Kelowna Junior Chamber of Commerce, for the short half-year term commencing January 1, 1946, at the annual meeting held last week. A strong slate of officers will assist him in the anticipated stepped-up tempo of the organization likely with the advent of the new year. Not only is the body contemplating more definite efforts toward some of its previous goals, but an expansion of matters under consideration will be placed before the members in the early months of the new year. In order to facilitate rapid progress of these, the "Jaycees" are seriously considering meeting twice instead of only once monthly.

Junior Board Is Best Equipped To Provide Future World Leaders Asserts National Head Of Jaycees

Edward O'Connor Says Canada Rose to Second Place in World Export Trade During Five and a Half Years of War—National Membership Now Totals 15,000—Canada Has Taken Place in World But Now Needs Young Leaders—Local Junior Board of Trade Donates $250 to War Memorial Fund

"DURING five and a half years of war, Canada rose to second place in the world export trade, but it is sadly in need of young leaders—young men who are prepared to accept responsibility, and there is no better organization in the Dominion to give this training than the Junior Chamber of Commerce," Edward O'Connor, national president of the association, told members of the local Junior Board of Trade here last Wednesday night. Mr. O'Connor, who is making a tour throughout Western Canada visiting the various clubs, stated the "Jaycees" are on the march throughout Canada, pointing out the membership had increased from 8,000 a year ago to 15,000 today. He predicted a Dominion membership of 20,000 within the near future, with fully organized clubs in 120 cities and towns.

Mayor James Pettigrew extended greetings to the national president on behalf of the city. He stated the relationship between the government and the cities is much more pleasant than ten years ago, thanks to the efforts of the Boards of Trade and other civic organizations. He stressed the importance of members attending the national conference.

Referring to the French-Canadian situation, he said Jaycee clubs in Quebec have been growing in membership, and thought if members of other clubs took a broad minded view of the situation that exists, they would be able to "develop a vision within our own borders."

Mr. O'Connor said another main problem facing the country was juvenile delinquency. "The failure and neglect of youth is our responsibility," he said. "We should completely re-organize sport programs. The time to start educating youngsters is when they are in the primary year," he said, stating that Calgary had re-organized baseball, hockey, swimming pools and playground facilities to meet the ever-changing demands of youth.

"Another real job to tackle is that of government," he continued. "Unfortunately, many people fail to exercise their franchise. In past elections only 20 to 30 per cent of the people took time out to vote. I am sure the people who don't vote are the first ones to complain. We often hear the government is not representative of the people. Then in Heaven's name, is it if the people don't get out and vote?" he asked.

Referring to rehabilitation of ex-servicemen, Mr. O'Connor said every day hundreds of young men are returning to civilian life. "They are the men who have given us another chance. We should therefore assist them in locating jobs and homes. Some Jaycee clubs in Canada have voluntarily given them a year's free membership in their clubs."

"But what about the chap who is not coming home?" he asked. "Are they beyond all praise? Our praise is not good enough. I know memorials will be said, but unless we raise a memorial of eternal peace, their sacrifice will have been in vain," he concluded.

KAMLOOPS MAY HAVE CITY BUS SERVICE SOON

If the Public Utilities Commission and the electors of Kamloops approve, the City Council will grant the R.A.F. veteran a sole franchise to operate a passenger bus within the Kamloops city limits. A bylaw giving effect to this decision was carried to the committee stage at last week's council meeting, and will be laid before the voters at the civic election in mid-December.

The franchise will have a five-year life, renewable for a further five, or certain. Rates will be those approved by the Public Utilities Commission, and the owner of the bus company has stated the service will start within 80 days after the agreement is approved by the Public Utilities Commission. A two-exit 20-passenger motor bus will be operated.

COLD STORAGE PLANT GROWTH IS OUTLINED

A brief outline of the growth and operation of the cold storage industry as it affects the growing handling and marketing of the Okanagan Valley fruit crop was given to the Penitentiary Rotary Club by J. E. Britton, assistant superintendent of the Summerland Experimental Station, who spoke at a luncheon meeting last week.

Mr. Britton, who is looked upon as a specialist in cold storage and maturity studies, explained that cold storage facilities in the valley had grown from 33 plants in 1940 to 40 plants at the present time, with more expansion in sight. He recalled that the first plant to be installed in the Okanagan was in Kelowna. This was the old bunker type. Later plants were built in Vernon and Penticton. Here the brine spray principle was used and that plant, with certain modifications, has been the pattern for all others which follow. When it was first constructed there were those who stated that its operation would not be successful. Time has proven them wrong.

Mr. Britton then reviewed the principle of the brine spray operation in which the air is "the vehicle for removing heat from the apples in storage."

At first there was little experimentation with cold storage, largely because the facilities were inadequate to meet the needs, but as the tonnage of the valley steadily increased new and better methods have been under constant study. "In the past five years there has been more thought given to the efficient operation of cold storage plants than ever before," Mr. Britton said.

"Cold storage maintains good quality, if it is there in the first place," the speaker stressed. "But quality can come only from one place—the orchard."

"Cold storage plays an important part in the handling and marketing of all our fruit."

Modern Packing
He stated that the capacity had risen from less than 3,000,000 boxes of apples in 1940 to about 4,000,000 boxes at the present time.

Mr. Britton said that it had been computed that a packing house should have cold storage capacity for about two-thirds of its tonnage.

The trend is now towards "streamlined" packing operations with receiving, storage, packing and cold storage in one unit. Mr. Britton prefaced his remarks on cold storage with a quick review of the various trends in the fruit industry. In the early days growers were prone to plant as many varieties as possible, but later this policy was changed to one of planting commercial varieties which would be acceptable to the markets.

He recalled the struggle to establish central selling and the fact that during that period growers' meetings were always well attended because of the contentious nature of the discussions involved.

At that time it was stressed that sufficient cold storage capacity should be available to handle the various varieties on a maturity basis and to make marketing more flexible through an extended period of selling. At the same time there was need to deliver fruit to distant markets in good condition. Towards these goals cold storage experts have since been working.

Headline news is worth shouting about. And to thousands of Canadians the lively, brisk flavour of Libby's Tea is certainly headline news. Ordinary, flat-tasting teas seem dull as yesterday's news the moment you taste the brisk flavour of Libby's, always tangy, spirited and full-bodied, never flat or insipid. ## TRUE STORIES OF CANADIAN ACHIEVEMENT

FOR 450 feet through the solid rock beneath Niagara Falls, a new tunnel was recently finished to mark one of the most brilliant feats of Canadian engineering in all history.

There, in the uproarious mists of a billion trillion gallons of water, twenty workmen carved a grim gash 450 feet long, seven feet high and six feet wide.

Into this tunnel... the biggest under any falls on earth... men poured thousands of tons of concrete through an eight-inch hole drilled from the roadway far above.

While dealing with the tricky problem of hardening cement in a revolving spray, they also carved three openings. You and others from the farthest corners of the world may stand before those openings today and see the falls of Niagara from the bottom up.

Brightly lighted by the very falls under which they stood, these saturated workmen could not hear each other speak because of the mighty roar. In the beginnings they had to cope with winds of hurricane force which turned the spray into ice.

And yet the tunnel smashed through the rock smoothly lined with cement and opened to visitors by the people of Ontario as a matter of routine achievement.

Referring to the problems confronting Canada at large, Mr. O'Connor said Canada is a young country, but he often thought that if we forget the "young country" phrase, the Dominion might go much further ahead.

"We are very backward in many ways," he declared. "Canada is a leading industrial country. During five and a half years of war Canada rose to second place in world export. The Dominion was looked upon with envy at the San Francisco conference. It has taken its place in the world, but it needs young leaders—young men who are prepared to accept leadership, and I don't think there is a better organization to give that leadership than the Jaycees if it is properly organized," he continued.

Mr. O'Connor said he was not criticizing service clubs. They have taken their place in society, as we have ours. In the Junior Chamber of Commerce, 70 per cent are members of service clubs, he said.

Mr. O'Connor said the objectives of the Jaycees are three fold. They

CATTLEMEN ARE CRITICAL OVER ROAD CONDITION

Strong criticism over the bad state of repair of secondary roads in the Interior of the Province, was voiced at the directors' meeting of the B.C. Cattle Growers' Association held in Kamloops on November 17. Following considerable discussion, a resolution was adopted asking the Provincial Government to provide sufficient funds for improving the roads. It also stated that in view of the fact there is privately owned road machinery available, this should be used in the event the government equipment is not available. A letter from the Commissioner of Police in Victoria was read, and the meeting discussed with Inspector Gannon the question regarding range riders and police specialists for the protection of stock.

HOUSEHOLD APPLIANCES TOP LIST

Fridgaires, Washing Machines and Refrigerators Are List of Home Appliances Wanted Most According to Survey

Washing machines and mechanical refrigerators are at the top of the list of home appliances that most of the housewives in Kelowna are dreaming of owning as soon as production settles back to normal again, according to a survey made by the Courier this week.

In a list of names chosen at random from the telephone directory, 70 per cent of those interviewed said they are in need of a washing machine as soon as they are on the market, while mechanical refrigerators and electric ranges are well to the fore, indicating that the trend in the future will be entirely electric.

And if those items, along with floor coverings, sewing machines, radios, electric toasters, dining room furniture, electric irons, living and bedroom furniture, were for sale right now, the women would be ready to spend money on them.

Five of six women are ready to buy one or more of the major items needed in a home. After they have bought the first three pieces, they plan floor coverings, radios and sewing machines next in line, followed by heating stoves, vacuum cleaners and living and bedroom furniture.

Not only large items are wanted by housekeepers, either, for half of them are in the market for one or more types of kitchen utensils.

Canadian-Wide Survey
The survey, recently conducted across Canada by MacLean-Hunter Publishing Company also ran true to form in Kelowna. The publishing company estimates that about 84 per cent of the 2,516,728 Canadian families interviewed want to put their money into washing machines, refrigerators and cook stoves before they purchase any other articles.

One million women, according to the article, are in the market for sheets and pillow slips, while blankets are in demand by 652,000. The demand for towels represents a potential of 1,608,000 purchases, almost evenly divided between hand and face towels.

More Canadian housewives are in the market for floor coverings than for any other major item of home furnishing. Together with 232,000 who are in the market for Venetian blinds, they make up a total of 1,000,000 purchasers.

The MacLean-Hunter survey indicates that prospective purchasers of silver tableware number some 380,000, although only 88,000 will make it their first choice.

Bedroom Furniture
In the field of furniture, 18 per cent of the women are in the market for bedroom furniture, and electric clocks are wanted by six per cent of all housewives, more for the kitchen than the living room, and virtually all representing original purchases.

Showing music interest in the home, 65 per cent of the women in Canada say they are in the market for a piano. They are four to one in favor of upright over grand pianos, and almost all will be first purchases.

Nearly 11 per cent want an electric mixer and one in every eight wants an electric toaster now, if available.

STAGETTES TO ASSIST CANVASS

All Members Offer to Help with War Memorial Canvass

A special meeting of the local Stagette Club was held on Monday evening, November 20, in order to arrange for members of the club to assist in the canvass for the War Memorial fund. Every Stagette indicated that she would be available for this work.

V. Gregory spoke to the members on the canvass and War Memorial fund, emphasizing the importance of making this canvass a success in order to show the returned veterans and others the appreciation felt by the people of Kelowna for the great sacrifice made by the service men and women of this city and district. Mr. Gregory also spoke on the asset that this Memorial would be to the City of Kelowna.

The regular meeting of the Stagettes was held on Tuesday evening, November 13, when Mrs. S. M. Simpson loaned her complete recording of Shakespeare's "Othello". Mrs. James Logie gave a short introductory summary of the great work. Miss Joan Lawrence expressed the appreciation of the club to Mrs. Simpson and Mrs. Logie. The next meeting of the Stagettes will be held on Tuesday evening, November 27.

Workers are still urgently needed by the local Red Cross Committee to supply the demand for shipments to the European and China U.N.I. A.A. and in order to make layettes for Canadian wives still in Britain.

Mrs. H. C. S. Collett, head of the local committee, received word on Saturday that there is an urgent need for this work and all workers who have been assisting during the war years are asked to be ready to resume work right after the Christmas season. Mrs. Collett stated that there is still about six months' work to be done and urged all to turn out again.

A valley meeting of the Red Cross will be held in Vernon on Tuesday, December 4, at 2:00 o'clock, in the Burns Hall.

LAST OF 1,500 CANADIAN P.O.W. ON WAY HOME

Small Groups of Civilians Have Also Been Included in Repatriation

The hospital ship Letitia brings the last of the 1,500 Canadian P.O.W.'s who have been repatriated from prison camps in the Far East. The same boat carries many British hospital cases too, the end of the vast movement of prisoners who have returned to British soil through B.C. ports.

In addition to the 9,000 P.O.W.'s who have returned, there have been some 60 civilians, vanguard of an expected 300, who will pass through Vancouver and Victoria. These civilian internees have been arriving in small groups and while in Victoria and Vancouver are guests at the Red Cross reception centres, where room, meals, clothing and amusement are provided by the Red Cross.

VETS BROADCAST OWN PROGRAM

The strangest radio program to be broadcast in B.C. was that which echoed through the wards of Shaughnessy Military Hospital recently. Men in wheel chairs, a blind pianist with bandages still covering a plastic operation on his face, a sailor with his arm in a sling ... all took part in the patients program, which is expected to be a weekly hospital feature.

Arranged by Janet Barnes, Red Cross member, this is one of the occupational therapy projects, part of a National Red Cross program being developed in co-operation with hospital therapists in military hospitals throughout Canada. At present the broadcast is for hospital patients only, but when it has become more established it is hoped to unearth enough talent to send it over B.C. airways. In the meantime, it is providing a mental stimulus and interest to many returned men who find hospital days long and wearisome.

Kelowna Escapes Brunt of Jobless Crisis In Province But Officials Admit Situation May Get Worse

Only 37 Unplaced Applications for Employment—Scores of People Passing Through City in Attempt to Find Work, However—Think Situation May Become Worse Unless Secondary Industry Established in Province—Vancouver Legion Warns Prime Minister of Grave Situation—All Registered Overseas Veterans Have Been Given Jobs

WHILE many parts of British Columbia, particularly Vancouver, are facing an acute unemployment crisis, the jobless situation in Kelowna is nothing to get alarmed about as there are only 37 unplaced applications for employment, officials of the local Selective Service office stated this week. They admitted, however, that scores of people are passing through the city daily in an attempt to get work, and many have failed to register at the Selective Service office. Most of those unemployed in the city are men of 60 years of age or over, and youths ranging from 16 to 18 years of age who were formerly employed in the fruit industry.

Commenting on the report from Vancouver that the president of the Canadian Legion had dispatched a telegram to the Prime Minister warning of the grave situation developing at the Coastal city due to the large influx of people from all parts of Canada, local employment officials are of the opinion that the situation will grow worse unless some effort is made to establish more work in the province.

They agreed with William Hor-robin, regional employment officer for B.C., in that the only solution to the unemployment crisis is the development of new secondary industries in the province.

Basically the province at present is an employer of unskilled labor in its mines and woods. It can absorb the skill of its returning veterans only by developing industries to process the raw materials it produces. Some observers, however, say it is caused by the primary industries themselves marking time—and adding to unemployment in the process—until excess profits taxation is cut farther and in the hope that wage scales will drop.

In Vancouver it is estimated that there are two-and-a-half times as many men looking for work in the city as there are jobs available. Thousands of men are pouring into the labor market each month out of the discharge centres of the Armed Forces and in a continuation of the war-born flow from other provinces.

Local Selective Service officials stated there is not an overseas veteran in so far as the men who have registered at the unemployment office are concerned. They stated comparatively few other veterans are not placed in local jobs, with the exception of the odd "problem" case. Last month 78 veterans were referred to jobs, and out of this number 48 were definitely placed.

They realized, however, that most of the jobs that veterans are being referred to are of a temporary and seasonal nature, and they agreed that it is not a "permanent rehabilitation" for a veteran.

They pointed out there are about 38 claims in the office at present of which have been transferred here from all parts of the Dominion. A terrific number of prairie people are in the city at the present time seeking employment, they said.

Commenting on the fact that the two construction firms, who are building veterans' houses in the city, will shortly be laying off unskilled help, Selective Service officials said this was to be expected, as most of the rough carpentry work has been completed at both projects.

"We could place 20 skilled carpenters today if we had them," one official commented. "The work has reached the advanced stage now, and as time goes on, more skilled labor will be required to take care of the work."

While the unemployment situation was not discussed at the meeting of the Canadian Legion last week, some members took exception to the discrimination shown between overseas servicemen and those who had stayed in Canada.

3 LONG SEARCH

would require two strips, one meaning the relocation of the Kelgo road, and the acquiring of considerable valuable orchard property, turned the scales away from Rutland.

Actually the search for a suitable air strip site has gone on intensively here. Parties on a score of occasions, both sides of the lake, Department of Transport officials, who would have to approve the site, have examined several suggested locations but the first one that they agreed was feasible was the Dickson Ranch at Ellison.

The Kelowna Aviation Council was formed of representatives of various organizations in the city and after a review of the whole situation, following an entirely new approach to the problem, decided that if it met with the approval of the Department of Transport, the Dickson site was the most suitable.

Soil tests were made to ascertain the drainage and it was found to be entirely adequate. The wind direction required only one strip. Water was available. There was sufficient length for an adequate strip. There was not too much work necessary on the property to make a strip.

The only objection to the site was that it was a mile or a mile and a half beyond the distance which the committee would have liked to have. However, it was felt that in these days of motorcars, that distance was not a serious handicap.

The Aviation Council, accordingly, recommended that steps be taken to acquire the Dickson Ranch.

The Rutland delegation argued that the interests of the primary producers should be considered in the establishment of an airport. They pointed out in their brief that the location of the airport might play an important part in the cost of shipping fruit by air, as will come in the future.

They maintained that the Rutland property could be purchased for $100 per acre or a cost of $11,000, which, they argued, was half that of the Dickson Ranch. They doubted the reliability of the reports of down and up draughts at the Rutland field and maintained that from a drainage point of view, the Rutland field was superior to Ellison. The Rutland field is ideal for blacktop runways, while, of grass was decided upon, water from Gopher Creek could be used.

Mayor Pettigrew welcomed the delegation, which consisted of A. W. Gray, B. Chichester, D. McDougall, C. Renfrew and D. H. Campbell, saying that the City Council was at all times willing to listen to the point of view of rural areas. He pointed out, however, that the delegation placed the Council in a very awkward position as it was just about to pass the Dickson Ranch Airport By-Law to be submitted to the ratepayers, and the by-law could not be delayed if it was to be voted on on December 13. It had to be passed at the meeting Monday night.

The Council discussed the matter at some length with the delegation and after the delegation retired continued the discussion. The Council recalled that an exhaustive and authoritative brief had been prepared by the Aviation Council outlining the whole history of the search for an air strip in this area and giving details of the Dickson Ranch suggestion.

Finally the Council unanimously passed a resolution which read: "After many years of continual search for a suitable airport site by the Board of Trade, Kelowna Aviation Council and members of the City Council themselves, all their reports and investigations would indicate that easily the best site considered from all angles is the one known as the Dickson Ranch, therefore the Council hereby support their previous decision to recommend the purchase of the said Dickson Ranch as an airport site."

The bylaw, which is published in detail on another page, provides for the borrowing of $20,000 to purchase the Dickson Ranch at Ellison. If passed by the ratepayers, the city will issue three per cent serial bonds.

While the price of the Dickson Ranch is $20,000, it is expected that a considerable portion of it will be resold. The portion desired as an air strip is that immediately to the east of the railway line and to the south of the road which runs west from the Postill station.

A strip there five hundred feet wide and approximately 5,000 feet long can be converted into an air strip without a tremendous expense.

BIG BOND BUYERS

In the past eight Victory Loan campaigns, employees of the Canadian National Railways have purchased a grand total of $62,813,200 in bonds, said W. R. Devenish, vice-president, speaking in support of the Ninth Loan. The western regional organization is headed by Mr. Devenish, who has donated trophies to stimulate competition among the employees.

FINED FOR NO AUTO LICENCE

Harry Gordon Way, of Kelowna, pleaded guilty to operating an automobile without a licence, and was fined $10 when he appeared before Magistrate T. F. McWilliams in police court this week. On another charge of operating a vehicle with no driver's licence, he was given suspended sentence, but was assessed $1.75 costs.

Rudy Galarneau was given suspended sentence but assessed $1.75 costs when he was found guilty of operating a vehicle with no licence. He was also found guilty of having no driver's licence, but was given suspended sentence on this charge also.

Christ Schmitt pleaded guilty to a charge of dangerous driving and was fined $25 and costs. Schmitt was reported to have cut a corner sharply and to have crashed into another vehicle.

2 RATEPAYERS TO VOTE

Hill and James Ennis. Lot 6 owned by the Kelowna Steam Laundry.

Lot 3, in block 10, registered plan 402, owned by Adolph Theodore Reil.

Lots 4 and 5 in block 10, except the west ten feet of lot 5, owned by the estate of the late Dr. B. F. Boyce.

Lot 6 and the west ten feet of lot 5, now owned by the Salvation Army.

The bylaw to purchase these properties provides for the borrowing of $20,000 in serial bonds, bearing 3½ per cent interest, over a twenty-year period. Something more than $20,000 is expected to be recovered from the buildings on these properties.

The second bylaw, for the acquiring of the north side of Mill Avenue, involves no borrowing, but the ratepayers are asked to give their consent to a three-way switch, which will make possible the acquiring of lots 1 and 2 in block 19, plan 402, being on the north side of Mill from Ellis Street west.

These lots are now owned by Harold A. Truswell and Earl A. Murchison, operators of Orchard City Motors, who have been planning on erecting a garage on this site.

They have agreed to accept lots 11 and 12, block 16, registered plan 462, in exchange for the lots they now own. Lots 11 and 12, block 16, are located at the south-east corner of Mill and Pendozi, immediately behind the MacDonald Block, and are now owned by Mrs. Hazel Kathleen Loane.

Mrs. Loane has agreed to exchange these two lots for lots 10, 11 and 12 in block 17. These lots are now owned by the City of Kelowna and are located at the south-east corner of Mill and Water, being where the police station now stands.

The three-way switch thus involves the city giving Mrs. Loane the Mill-Water lots; Mrs. Loane surrendering the Mill-Pendozi lots to Orchard City Motors and Orchard City Motors surrendering the Ellis-Mill lots to the city.

The two bylaws provide for the city acquiring the whole north side of Mill Avenue from Water to Ellis for an outlay of $20,000, of which about $9,000 will be recoverable.
